BESINGER GETS 'GREEN LIGHT' FOR HOUSING PROJECT

U.S. to employ 320 persons to compile census in 13th dist.

The census of the 13th congressional district, comprising the northern part of Cook county and all of Lake county will be handled through the office of Frank W. Kilbane, Waukegan, district supervisor and his assistant, John Warren Giles, Evanston.

Messrs. Kilbane and Giles will have charge of 320 persons in the district who will be employed in this seventeenth decennial census, which will start April 1.

APPLICATIONS are now being taken for work of enumerators, who will be expected to call at 33 dwellings daily. They will receive 7c a house and 7c for each person living there. On this piece-price basis, they will receive an estimated $10.68 a day, according to Mr. Giles.

Following publication of previous census story in this paper, local township committeemen have been receiving applications of persons who desire to engage in this work. Committeemen have been asked to forward to the central office all applications in their hands. Hereafter applicants should apply directly by letter or otherwise, to the census office, room 326, postoffice building, Waukegan.

GENERAL requirements for an enumerator are that he be a U. S. citizen, have a high school education and be able to write legibly, handle simple arithmetic and talk easily with other persons.

Applicants will be notified when and where to appear for an interview, and appointments will be made on the basis of ability to pass successfully an examination prepared by the Bureau of the Census, according to Mr. Kilbane. After the appointment, they will be trained in accordance with a program prescribed by the bureau.

THE BASIC QUESTIONS on housing, population and employment are varied and all have a purpose for later use by the bureau, he explained. Each person 14 and older will be asked about his employment status during the previous week, and every fifth person will be questioned concerning his educational background, the number of weeks he worked in 1949, his 1949 income and his status as a veteran. Every 30th person will be asked to furnish information as to whether he has been married more than once and the number of years he has been married to his present spouse.

QUESTIONNAIRES provide for extensive information about the structural details and facilities of each dwelling unit. Agricultural questions include such information as the value of the farm and the mortgage indebtedness.

"For any of the skeptics who may feel that his privacy is being unduly invaded," Kilbane continued, "it is to be noted that, although the law provides that questions must be answered, it also provides that the information be given to the bureau in strictest confidence and that the bureau cannot disclose it to any person, firm or corporation or any other department of the government."

Need more men leaders for Cub Scout program

Twenty-one men met at the South school, Arlington Heights, last Tuesday to outline the Cubing program for the coming year. This looks like a lot of men. It is a lot of men, but the way the town is growing and the number of boys who would like to become Cubs, more men will be necessary. Once started, the men enjoy it as much as the boys do.

Right now every one is looking forward to the yearly Father and Son banquet Tuesday, February 21, at the Methodist church. Every Cub and dad that attended the banquet last year will be there this year and the new boys and dads will not want to miss it.

Cubs and dads intending to enroll in the near future are invited. Contact the nearest den dad or one of the officials for details. The new officials for the coming year are:

General chairman, John B. Palmer; treasurer, Eugene J. Dresman; secretary, Earl W. Hadland; cubmasters, Mark S. Creviston and Richard C. Bradford.

Committee: Daniel W. Vittum, activity chairman; Fred K. W. Siegel, handicraft chairman; Douglas A. Brown, property chairman; Richard W. Fox and Herbert K. Hackbarth, directors of publicity.

Arlington a ghost town?

HOW LONG WILL WE STAND FOR IT?

The C. & N. W. is asking for tens of thousands of dollars a month additional passenger revenue from local commuters, while it is placing a padlock on its depot office after 3:00 o'clock five days a week and all day Saturday and Sunday.

Public hearing to be held by zoning board of appeals March 3

Members of the Arlington Heights village board Monday night considered a petition for remodeling a single family residence at 1004 N. Mitchell into a two family dwelling.

The board referred the matter to the zoning board of appeals, who will hold a public hearing on the matter March 3, at the village hall, at 8 p. m. The section at present is zoned for single family dwellings.

A payroll amounting to $7,886.90 was approved for payment at this time.

Village Clerk Forrest F. Davis was given authorization to apply for quotations on the necessary sign that the village must purchase in the near future.

Developers in the community have given and pledged a total of $350 toward the purchase of signs in the various new subdivisions in Arlington Heights. The village will stand the expense of all sign replacements.

Des Plaines woman found dead from gunshot

A note found near the body of Mrs. Helen Stewart, 47, of Kirchhoff rd., one and a half miles south of Des Plaines, indicated she committed suicide.

She was found fatally shot Tuesday on the rear porch of her home by her son, James, 16, when he returned home from school. Her husband, Lewis, told police she had been under medical care for a nervous ailment.

In her note she said she could not go on any longer.

Methodist church to be scene of World Day of Prayer devotions

World Day of Prayer will be observed by churches in this area at the Arlington Heights Methodist church February 24, at 2 p. m. Christian women all around the world will be uniting their hearts, minds, voices and gifts for one great purpose—"that the world may know Him, Whom to know aright, is life eternal."

In 90 different countries, women and children will be meeting to pray that man, in this world's disorder, may turn to God and His orderly design for mankind.

The Council of Church women of Greater Chicago, through its World Day of Prayer Committee, has been planning the observance of the Day in 70 or more local and suburban areas. In each area, a committee of Christian women of all denominations is at work to gather together the women, and in many areas, the children in daytime meetings in homes, churches, hospitals and other institutions.

AT THESE MEETINGS, in addition to prayer and praise,

C. & N. W. president replies to Fence Post

R. L. Williams, president of Chicago & Northwestern R. R. replies in this week's Fence Post to an article appearing therein last week.

He refutes a number of statements and explains that expenses charged to commuter train service are not as many as last week's article intimates. The use of the Madison street terminal costs the commuters nothing. Their patronage of the stores and shops in the depot is small.

Vehicle tags must be purchased by March 1

All owners of autos in the village of Arlington Heights must have their vehicle sticker by March 1.

A village ordinance requires that all such stickers must be displayed on the windshield of cars. The police department have received orders to issue tickets to all violators, which means that even if a sticker has been purchased but is not mounted on the windshield, the offender will be given a ticket.

YOUTH CENTER SEEKS POOL TABLE FOR INN

The Arlington Heights Youth Center is looking for a used pool table which might be loaned or given to the Center.

If anyone has a table which is just cluttering up his attic or garage the Youth Center would be glad to relieve him of it.

Interested parties may call LeRoy Knoepfel, high school principal, Arlington Heights 200, or Mrs. Lois Campbell, Youth Center director, Arlington Heights 2142.

Builder to make changes to comply with building code

The moratorium declared on the "type 29" houses being erected in Scarsdale, Arlington Heights, by Leonard Besinger and Associates, was practically lifted at Monday night's village board meeting, when the builder promised to make changes to meet with the building code, and remove the major objections of the citizens committee.

Attorney W. T. McNeill, who spoke on behalf of Mr. Besinger, said it was his client's belief that his "type 29" house did comply with the code, since he was issued the permits.

THE SPECIAL citizens committee, appointed by Mayor Albert W. Goetke, to study the plans of this house, made their report, which stated that they found the plans did not meet with the code in three respects. It did not provide sufficient floor area, storage area, and was not complete as to what type of heating system was to be installed. The committee's interim report asked that the permits for that house be revoked.

McNeill questioned the fact whether any village had the right to write in its code a specific floor or storage space for any home.

"In any event," said McNeill, "my client is willing to make the necessary changes to comply. However, in the meantime, he should like to be permitted to go on with his building. Thirty excavations have already been made and three foundations poured. The whole project involves a lot of money and Mr. Besinger can not afford to be delayed any longer."

WHILE THE BOARD carried on their regular business the special citizens committee, the building commission, and members of the building committee, and Mr. Besinger and a group of his associates retired to another room to iron out the existing difficulties.

The proposed changes in the house seemed to satisfy the groups and Mr. Besinger took the green light and is continuing his building project.

It is understood that "type 29" construction has been partially dropped and "type 30" substituted which removes any doubt as to the two story classification.

Mr. Besinger also offered to arrange locations of the types in order to remove the so-called "row-house" stigma.

G. F. Schneberger new president of Heights Chamber

Heading the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce for the next year will be George F. Schneberger, who was elected at the February 2 meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber.

Other officers are: Harry H. Knaack, vice-president, and John H. Kehe, treasurer. Retiring officers are: D. W. Senne, president; George C. Poole, vice-president; and Norman Dewey, treasurer.

The annual membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held February 27, at Faith Lutheran church, beginning with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

JOE MEEK, executive secretary of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, will be the main speaker of the evening. Mr. Meek is a top ranking after dinner speaker with plenty of wit and humor, as well as food for thought.

This will be an enjoyable meeting as well as an important meeting for the Chamber. All members, as well as all business and professional men, are urged to attend.

Tickets are now available and will be distributed throughout the membership. To be sure of a reservation call the secretary, Paul Schwengels, Arlington Hts. 1703, who will see to it that a ticket is delivered.

The next Board of Directors meeting will be held Monday evening.

ALBERT KRAEMER FUNERAL TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Albert C. Kraemer, Elk Grove tax collector, will be held at Lauterburg & Oehler funeral home, Arlington Heights, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Kraemer died at Evanston hospital Wednesday afternoon. He had been ill five months.

He leaves his wife, two stepsons, Ed Lange, Mt. Prospect, and Frank Lange, Chicago. A nursery will be provided for small children.

Library bond election set for March 11

Citizens of Arlington Heights will go to the polls Saturday, March 11, to vote on the proposed Memorial Library bond issue.

The issue will amount to $80,000, payable within 20 years, at an interest rate not in excess of four per cent per annum.

VILLAGE BOARD members listened to the first reading of the special election ordinance at Monday night's meeting. Previously they approved a certified copy of the Library Board's minutes of their meetings, and the resolutions adopted by it to erect a library, complete with furnishings and equipment.

Polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m., and members of the Woman's Club of Arlington Heights have offered their services as judges and clerks of election.

A special meeting will be held within a few days for a second reading of the ordinance and its passage.

Sam Campbell film lecture at Faith church next week

Faith Sunday school, Arlington Heights, will present Sam Campbell, the philosopher of the forest, in a thrilling lecture entitled, "Irresistible California," illustrated by full-color motion pictures. This film will have a prologue showing Mr. Campbell's favorite animal pictures made at his Wisconsin wildlife sanctuary.

The presentation will take place in Faith church parish hall February 17, at 8:00 p. m. and the community is invited.

'Wetter' water to put out future Prospect Heights fires

Prospect Heights volunteer firemen are now increasing their efficiency rating by having ready for use the water which will increase the efficiency of water in putting out fires 50%.

The anomalous term, strange-sounding to the uninitiated, indicates that a penetrant has been added to the water which will increase the efficiency of water in putting out fires 50%. The penetrant used by the local firemen is called "Unox," a product of the Union Carbide and Carbon company.

With this "wetter" water, since less is used, there is less water damage and fire damage. An initial defect of the mixture which caused the water to be corrosive, has now been corrected and good results will be obtained from its use.

According to Fire Chief Foor, the Prospect Heights department is the first of the surrounding communities to use this modern aid to fire-fighting, as far as he knows. The product and method have been discussed in fire meetings, and trade papers have given information about them.

Lions present 'ceiling projector' for bed-ridden patients

Community Camera

A ceiling projector and over 50 microfilmed books were contributed to the community by the Arlington Heights Lions club Tuesday evening. "We hope that other organizations or individuals will be interested in adding to the collection of microfilmed books to suit the tastes of every shut-in, young and old, who may find it impossible or difficult to read."

Contributions will be accepted by Paddock Publications and will be turned over to the library board for the purchase of additional volumes, which are priced at about $2.50 each. Pictured above are C. William Lussman, chairman of the committee working on the project, President Burns presenting the projector to Paul Patrick, president of the library board, and Mrs. Blanche Ashton, Mrs. Irma Grose, and R. D. Dibble, members of the board who were guests at the Lions' dinner meeting Tuesday night.

Arlington high school receives nation-wide fame thru new pictures

The fame of Arlington Heights Township high school students which has recently spread to all corners of the nation through a series of pictures originally made for the yearbook, by Marjorie Payne, high school sophomore, may now be carried all over the world.

The U. S. State Department issues to foreign newspapers pictures of typically American activities as part of its information service so that other countries may know what it's like over here. The pictures made by Marjorie were distributed by Acme Newspictures throughout the country. Usage in Chicago varied from several hundred insertions of a two-column picture made of the "SocksHop" to three five-column pictures in the Des Moines Tribune. Several television stations also used the sock-hop picture. The Des Moines picture editor called his use of the picture "one of his better picture pages."

Now the executive advisor, of Acme Newspictures, editors, "It strikes me that Marjorie's stuff would be excellent for the State Department service. Wouldn't it be nice if she knew that she not only took good pictures but

Harshbarger associated with Behrens Company

H. P. Harshbarger has been associated with C. M. Behrens Insurance and Real Estate office in Arlington Heights. For years he was director of Industrial and Adult Education at Maine high school, Des Plaines, and more recently in real estate in Des Plaines.

Mr. Harshbarger, with his family, reside at 1432 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights. He has been active in Kiwanis for 10 years and served as president of the Des Plaines club in 1944.

He is well qualified to carry on the congenial policy of the long established and respected Behrens office, and will be active in estate listings and sales.

helped people abroad to understand America?"

Acme Newspictures, the Scripps Howard Newspapers pictures syndicate, is considering plying the pictures in Crolier Society's World Book of Knowledge contest called "America's Free Children."

Marjorie's pictures of high school life include shots of students and teachers in the "dog-house" during the magazine drive, of a bus load of juniors setting out on a trip, of a bowling scene, and of an overflowed locker.

Community concert to hold new membership campaign March 11-16

The Board of Directors of the Arlington Heights Community Concert Association met at the home of Mrs. Gale Blocki, Jr., to discuss the concert season of 1950-1951.

It was recommended by Daniel Poole from Community Concert headquarters that from past experience throughout the United States that the annual membership drive should be launched in Arlington Heights between the third and fourth concerts.

THIS BRINGS the date of the membership drive March 6 through March 11. Headquarters will be established at 11 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights, and the office will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

It is only during this week that memberships are sold. After 6 p. m. March 11 no one can become a member or buy single admissions to the concert.

The total number of memberships available is the seating capacity of the high school gymnasium.

It is the hope that everyone in Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Inverness, and Wheeling will be contacted by a committee member, but if anyone is overlooked, he is urged to come to headquarters.

The concerts for the 1949-1950 season have been most enthusiastically received. Starting the

Cop's order to 'move-on' causes injuries to Fred Jasper, Arlington

Fred Jasper, 717 N. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, is nursing a broken nose, head concussion, bruises and chest injuries, all because an Evanston policeman refused to allow him to "rest-a-bit."

He was on his way home Thursday night when the accident occurred. Realizing that he was in danger of going to sleep at the wheel, he pulled off to the side of the road in Evanston with the intention of taking a five-minute nap, which he felt would refresh him sufficiently to continue his journey.

He obeyed the cop's order to "move on" and a few minutes later, when driving in Wilmette, his car hit a tree. The police of that city took him to the Evanston hospital. He has returned home and is improving sufficiently to tell his friends "it can happen to you."

Qualified veteran to speak on Hoover report

The portion of the Hoover report which concerns veterans will be discussed by Kenneth G. Cronin at next Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington Heights American Legion, at 8:30 p. m., Legion hall.

Mr. Cronin, a member of the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce, is one of a panel of speakers qualified to speak on the Hoover report and its proposed economy of the government. He is a veteran of four years of service in World War II and will give a veteran's viewpoint on the Hoover Commission recommendations dealing with veteran's affairs.

The results of this report are not in the distant future. As present several specific bills have been introduced to the Senate and House to effectuate these recommendations.

Merle Guild Post extends an invitation to all citizens of the community, veterans and non-veterans, to hear Mr. Cronin speak.

Arrest 3 teenagers on several offenses

Three young men, two from the Wheeling vicinity and one from Arlington Heights, were picked up Sunday by the Morton Grove Cook County Sheriff's police, at res. 42A and 58, near Glenview, and booked on several serious charges.

Robert Camm, 18, Dundee rd., Wheeling, was charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, speeding, driving on the influence of liquor and operating a vehicle with fictitious license plates.

His companions, Roy Hanne-man, 20, who gave his address as Rand rd. and Thomas, Arlington Heights, and Lawrence Mielke, 17, rural route, Wheeling, were each booked on disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charges.

The trio were released on bond, pending a hearing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 12, will be: "SOUL"

The Golden Text is: "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to move" (Ps. 66: 8, 9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon the following are from the Bible: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul: and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and a God. . . . For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly" (Ps. 42: 11; 84: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Soul or Spirit signifies Deity and nothing else. There is no finite soul nor spirit. Soul or Spirit means only one Mind, and cannot be rendered in the plural. . . . Human thought has adulterated the meaning of the word through the hypothesis that soul is both an evil and a good intelligence, resident in matter. . . . Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light" (pp. 466, 482, 335).

David Kurtz receives honorable mention in science talent search

LeRoy J. Knoepfel, principal of Arlington Heights Township High school, has just received a letter from Watson Davis, director of Science Clubs of America in Washington, D. C., stating that David Kurtz, high school honor student, has won honorable mention in the Ninth Annual Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships.

Designed to discover and develop scientific ability among high school seniors, the Science Talent Search is conducted annually for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships by Science Clubs of America. More than 15,000 science clubs in the high schools of the nation have entered contestants. Forty of these students are being invited to come to Washington for an all-expense trip March 2 to March 7 to attend the Science Talent Institute. In addition, 260 students showed such promise that they were recommended that they be awarded an honorable mention and that their ranking be brought to public attention and that, particularly, colleges and universities be informed.

Dr. Harold A. Edgerton, who, with Dr. Stuart H. Britt, developed and carried out the selection technique, declares that "all of the honorable mentions as well as the trip winners, represent a group of high school seniors of outstanding ability whose high school records indicate that they are top-notchers. Their activities and interests reflect an active interest in some field of science."

For his project, David cleaned and bleached the bones of a rabbit and assembled the skeleton. His written summary of the methods used in his osteology project was illustrated by photographs which he had taken at different stages.

Given DAR award

Darlene Toppel of Palatine high school has been voted the best school citizen in the senior class and will be awarded the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen medal.

Darlene is not only the best citizen but the highest ranking student in the class in scholarship. She is identified with a number of school activities. Selection was on dependability, patriotism, character, and service made by senior class nomination of candidates and final vote by all faculty members.

Lattof sees new 1950 Frigidaire refrigerators

Nicholas M. Lattof, president of Arlington Supply Stores, Inc., told of broad new 1950 lines of Frigidaire household refrigerators, ranges and other products, which he inspected recently during a special preview meeting in Chicago.

Mr. Lattof said he has plans underway for an extensive public showing of the new refrigerators and ranges. New 1950 products will be on display within the next two or three weeks.

The new refrigerator line affords three distinct types of refrigeration, four separate series and 10 sizes. Food storage capacities range from four to 17 cubic feet. Mr. Lattof pointed out that the line includes two-door Imperial refrigerators equipped with separate "locker-top" freezing compartments; De Luxe models with full-width freezers and full-length doors, and Master and Standard refrigerators.

Mr. Lattof said that a radically new idea has been injected into low-priced electric range design. There are two, compact 30-inch "Thrifty-30" models equipped with what Frigidaire describes as "the largest ovens installed in household ranges." The new "giant" oven, extending completely across the range, will hold up to six pies or 10 loaves of bread.

Elk Grove assessment goes up one million

The 1949 real estate assessment in the country township of Elk Grove has gone up nearly one million dollars over 1948, County Assessor John S. Clark today announced.

Elk Grove's land and buildings have been valued at $10,032,082 as compared with $9,316,682 for 1948, Clark said.

"The increased assessment reflects Cook county's current prosperity," he stated. "Especially notable is the continued building of new homes. Also, there has been considerable industrial growth in the county."

"Elk Grove's greater assessment is due largely to residential construction," he said.

Tall and short, brunette and blonde, blue-eyed and brown, lively and quiet—even at a glance it is easy to see that a room full of children holds twenty or thirty completely different individuals. Beyond these physical characteristics we find an even greater diversity of emotional, intellectual, and social differences.

The problem of caring for these individual wants and needs within a group of twenty or thirty children has been one of teachers' oldest and biggest ones. Educators have searched since the first school began to find the best ways of grouping children so that they receive a maximum of personal attention and also learn to live within a group of other children.

The primary teachers of both North and South Public schools, Arlington Heights, have chosen this problem as their special topic of study this year. Composites have been hard at work, reading, thinking, and discussing suggested methods since September. In the past few weeks they have also visited other schools in this area to talk with teachers about systems used in these schools and to see these systems at work. These visits have been made during the sessions in which they were not teaching; that is, the morning teachers made their visits in the afternoon and vice versa.

THE AFTERNOON teachers of grades one through four at the North school chose to visit the Winnetka and Barrington schools, while the morning teachers observed methods used at Glencoe and the National Teachers College in Evanston. At the South school, morning teachers have travelled to Argo and Waukegan to study the systems there, and the afternoon group is observing in the schools of Riverside and Chicago Heights.

Further plans of this primary group include meetings to discuss good and bad features of our own method and those of the schools visited. If results indicate that our present system of chronological grouping and yearly promotions should be revised, these teachers will present their findings and suggestions to the administration for action.

The upper-grade teachers have also been travelling. Barrington and Glencoe have already been visited by the special subject teachers, and further plans have been made to observe schools in Elmhurst, Wilmette, and Winnetka February 7. Through advance arrangements with these systems, Arlington's teachers are able to observe various teaching methods as practiced in these neighboring schools.

Library corner

Are you planning an early spring vacation, or must you be content with being an arm chair traveler? In either case, you are sure to enjoy some of the late travel books at the Arlington Heights Public Library.

"Queen New Orleans," by Harriet T. Kane, reveals this languorous, exciting city in all its sparkling variety, from the wonders of the past to the piquancies of the present. Visitors will find invaluable the final chapter, "Suggested Trips in and Around New Orleans." Two earlier books are "Mardi Gras," by Robert Tallant, and "New Orleans Holiday," by Eleanor Early, whose books of travel are written in such a delightful style.

Her latest book is "Cape Cod Summer," which will show the Cape from antiquities to sea-clam pies.

A. Lowell Hunt has written a new informative book entitled "Florida today," illustrated with 93 photographs and maps. He calls Florida the "New Land of Opportunity" and explains where and how to live, to work, to play, and to retire.

Laura Gilpin's photographic study of the Rio Grande from its arctic source to its tropic mouth, is a recording of sheer physical beauty, at the same time revealing economic and cultural life. It is the result of years of work, during which time the author traveled the full 1200 mile length of the river three times collecting material for this truly remarkable book.

East Maine Home Bureau

February 16 at 11 a. m. Mrs. W. Holtz of 29 W. Greenwood Drive (near Golf rd.) Des Plaines, will be hostess to the East Maine Home Bureau. After the necessary preliminaries the new slate of officers presented at the January meeting will take office.

The major lesson will be given by Mrs. Dobbratz and Mrs. Schutt on the "Care and Repair of Furniture."

An excellent lesson was reported by members attending the hat-making session which was the first of six lessons given by Miss Bea Powell at the Arlington Heights home. The dates for the next two lessons are February 9 and 23 at 10 a. m. Because of the number of women taking these lessons there will be morning and afternoon sessions. Most members of this unit will attend the morning session. Further information can be had by calling Mrs. J. Peterson, D. P. 4013-J.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Childers
212 N. Dunton

New neighbors in the heart of town are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Childers, Mrs. Kathryn Cooler (Mrs. Childers' mother), and Christopher and Judy Ann representing the younger generation.

Here is a new family one hundred percent sold on Arlington Heights. Former long time residents of Minneapolis, Minn., they think the big city can't compare with this town. "We love it," said Mrs. Childers, "it is such a friendly town."

Mr. Childers is a factory representative for the Do-All Company of Des Moines and travels all over the country demonstrating their products. He had worked from a branch of this organization in Savage, Minn., 15 miles from Minneapolis, and his recent transfer to the home plant in Des Moines brought the family here.

They moved into their spacious apartment above the Webber Paint Store January 4, and have been busy getting settled. Mrs. Childers especially appreciates their convenient location to town and the shopping district. They were also pleased with the friendly invitation to worship extended by the churches of Arlington Heights.

Chris, who stated that he was "around three years old," is perfectly thrilled with the railroad. His grandfather worked with one of the Minneapolis railroads and whenever he could he took Chris with him to watch the many trains going in and out of that city. Fortunately this "future engineer" has an excellent view of the trains from his bedroom and is at the window at 7 o'clock every morning watching the trains on the Northwestern track.

Little 8 month old Judy Ann has bright blue eyes and blonde hair. Chris enjoys having her around and will probably be happy to tell her all about railroads some day!

All members of this family like to read, and have already made good use of the public library.

Grandma Cooler has a relative, Mrs. Harry Hein, living in Barrington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Koeritz
905 N. Chestnut

New owners of the former Louis Neundorff home on N. Chestnut are Mr. and Mrs. Koeritz and their sons, Richard and Kenneth. Formerly of Melrose Park, they moved into their new home December 14 and were completely settled by Christmas.

After looking around all of the northwest suburbs they found just the house they wanted in Arlington Heights. It is a large frame home on a corner lot and has plenty of room for Richard and Kenneth when they come home from college. The abundance of trees in this section of town was the "selling feature," stated Mrs. Koeritz.

The eldest son, Richard, 23, attends Paul Smith college in Paul Smith, N. Y. Kenneth, 19, is a student at Northwestern university and lives in Evanston.

Relatives of this family are Mr. William Reese of the Reese Hard-

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Allen of Arlington Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Anita, to Richard P. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Ross of Mount Prospect.

"The Marseillaise"

Because soldiers of Marseille, marching into Paris to take part in the attack on the Tuileries in 1792, sang Rouget de Lisle's battle song with such spirit and vigor, it became known as the "Marseillaise."

ware store and the Ed Kolze family of 933 N. Highland.

Mr. Koeritz is employed with the Veterans Administration in Chicago and plans to have a busy summer painting their house and keeping the lawn and yard in tip-top shape. Mrs. Koeritz is interested in the adult education classes at the high school and intends to enroll in one of the courses offered next fall.

Prospect Heights Choral club to hold card party

The Prospect Heights Choral club will hold a card party February 13 at the Prospect Heights school. There will be entertainment, refreshments, and special attractions.

Tickets, which are 75c, can be purchased from any club member or Betty Talbot, Arlington Heights 7231-M, can be called for reservations.

FW Auxiliary sponsors card party February 16

The annual card party sponsored by the Arlington Heights VFW Auxiliary will be held at the field house February 16 at 8 p. m.

Local merchants have contributed generously toward this cause. All proceeds from the card party will be used exclusively for bringing treats to the boys in veteran's hospitals.

Sandwiches and home-made cake will be served. Donation 75 cents.

Kuppel's Klub to hold square dance, box social

Kuppel's Klub of the Methodist church, Arlington Heights, will meet February 11 at the church at 8 p. m. This will be a box social, and the members will participate in square dancing.

Each lady should bring a fancy box lunch for two with her name inside. For comfort, cotton dresses or blue jeans should be worn.

Nurse's club to meet, hear Dr. Carl speak

The regular meeting of the Arlington Heights Nurse's club will be held February 17 at the home of Mrs. Norbert F. Leckband, 211 N. Belmont ave., at 8 p. m.

The guest speaker will be Dr. George Thuman Carl, minister of the Methodist church of Park Ridge, whose subject will be "Abraham Lincoln."

Silage made from grasses or legumes has more than enough protein and vitamin A for wintering beef cattle.

VFW Auxiliary makes donation to child welfare

At the Arlington Heights VFW Auxiliary meeting held February 1, the Auxiliary made a donation to child welfare. The members are also going to sell leather goods made by the independent disabled veterans of the Illinois Sailors and Soldiers home at Quincy. Among the leather goods to be sold will be wallets, coin purses and other items.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Kehe Sr., Mrs. Fred Kehe Jr. and Mrs. Loretta Becker.

Miss Erna Dieball, president of the VFW Auxiliary, and Mrs. H. Schmuckel, junior past president, attended a reception held in honor of the national president, Mrs. Manoca, at the Morrison hotel January 28.

125 enjoy Father and Son banquet at St. John's church

Bibs were tied around the fathers and sons and each was served a half of a fried chicken at the annual Father and Son banquet at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, last Wednesday.

C. A. Hughes, Cook County Farm Advisor, was guest speaker for the evening. He spoke on the ideal relationship which should exist between a dad and his son, and the smiling faces of the boys seated at the sides of their dads was proof enough that those boys thought their dads were all that a dad could be and the dads were equally proud of their sons.

About 125 guests were served that night by the Friendly Circle of the church. Mrs. Lucille Ammann and Mrs. W. E. Fritz, chairmen of the banquet committee, planned the event.

Jimmy Schultz gave a toast to the dads and Weddigen Kraenzel gave a toast to the sons. Myron Kuhlman was master of ceremonies and music for the evening was furnished by Emelio Sylvestre, violinist, and Dick Everett, pianist who played classical selections and Les Griffith, guitarist, who accompanied community singing in addition to playing numbers of their own. Emelio, Les and Melvin also played other selections together.

The high school Barber Shop Quartette, consisting of Max Dehardt, Kent Lihme, Bob Shanley and Bob N. Arnold, presented several selections. All of the evening's talent was local and was reported to be "tops" in entertainment.

The tables were beautifully decorated by Mrs. Gladys Leicht and Mrs. Edna Mueller.

Shade for Farm Animals
Provide plenty of shade and cool, clean water for animals at all times. Pigs cannot perspire, so a cool spot for them is especially important. Salt should also be available to the animals all the time.

Christened Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Huber of Rand rd., Palatine, had their daughter, Patricia Ruth, baptized February 5 at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights. Rev. W. F. Kamphenel officiated.

The sponsors were Mrs. Dorothy Perry and Clarence Schuette, both of Arlington Heights. Patricia's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sellmer and Mrs. E. Huber, all of Arlington Heights.

A supper was held for the family and sponsors at the Hubers' home to celebrate the event.

County Health
First county health department in the U. S. was established in Guilford county, North Carolina, on June 1, 1911.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

They lead a busy life, those Arlington Woman's club members, if they're not attending a regular meeting or working hard for some project — like getting the new library building underway — they're attending meetings of one of the club's six study groups.

Though the aim of the study group program is educational and it undoubtedly fulfills this aim, those who belong find the meetings entertaining as well. The six sections — American Citizenship, Art (both new this year), Garden, International Relations, Literature and Drama and Music—are open to all members of the Woman's club, and one does not have to be a "member" of the individual group to attend meetings. Of course, in practice it works out that the same people attend most of the time, but newcomers and occasional visitors are always welcome. A non-member may attend two meetings in all as a guest.

The art group, of which Mrs. Chester Moore is chairman and Mrs. William Walton is instructor, meets at the Field house and it is the only group giving practical instruction. That is, the members draw and paint rather than simply studying art. At the beginning of the year the women worked in charcoal; now they've graduated to pastels and later they'll try their hands at oil.

Mrs. William H. Spears of Prospect Heights, chairman of the American Citizenship study group, has worked especially hard to make the first year's program outstanding. The women are studying the foundations of American government, beginning with the Declaration of Independence and continuing through the Constitution and its amendments.

At one of the autumn meetings LeRoy J. Knoepfel, principal of the high school, and a panel of teachers presented the subject and led a discussion by the members. Later this year the group will hear State Senator Arthur J. Bidwell and they're also planning a trip to Springfield with special emphasis on a visit to the state legislature.

The Garden group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry A. Busse, has attracted wide interest in this area of gardeners, and its pre-Christmas meeting showing Christmas flowers and table decorations attracted well over 100 women. This is the only group, by the way, which meets for mid-morning breakfast. The others meet in the afternoon.

International Relations in a broad sense is discussed and practiced by that group, of which Mrs. Harvey F. Barber, also of Prospect Heights, is chairman. At Christmas time they sent a shipment of candles to Korea. Since Korea's power plant is under the domination of Russia, electric lighting is a question of on again, off again there and the members felt that this was a constructive thing for them to do.

Recently, under the sponsorship of this group, every member of the entire club has been sent the name of a woman in Europe and asked to write her a letter. In this way, it is hoped that a barrage of 375 letters from Arlington Heights will go to housewives in Europe and help promote better understanding among them.

"Brotherhood in Literature," is the theme of the next meeting of the Literature and Drama group, of which Mrs. E. J. Harris is chairman. The members also sponsor a creative writing contest for those who belong to the club, and have received several entries already.

A scholarship to the Egyptian Music camp in downstate Illinois is offered annually to a talented local boy or girl by the Woman's club and the winner is selected by judges chosen by the Music study group. At a recent meeting a former member of a ballet company spoke to them about "Interpretation of the Ballet." Mrs. J. G. Spillar, of Prospect Heights, is chairman.

Though the members of the study groups aim to learn something—and they do, indeed—they also have a good time. A cake-and-coffee hour of sociability follows the meeting with often as not the women so enthralled with the subject they continue an informal discussion of it. As one member of the club who attends the study groups frequently put it, "those who don't go, just don't know what they're missing."

The participants in the study groups—as well as all members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club—are solidly behind the new village library, and are working hard to make it a reality in the very near future. They, as well as most everyone else in the village, will make good use of its much expanded facilities.

Clever Clover 4-H club to hold meeting tonight

Weddings Births

Agnus Bugner, Kenneth Weidner wed

by RUTH LOEFFLER.
Agnus Bugner and Kenneth Weidner, both of Buffalo Grove, were united in holy matrimony in St. Mary's Catholic church, last Saturday. The wedding took place at high mass at 10 a. m. with the Rev. Father George Ballweber officiating at the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, John Bugner.

Her gown was of white satin with long sleeves, a lace bodice and a lace front in the skirt. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a scalloped beaded crown. A white orchid on a prayer book with streamers hanging from it, made up her bridal bouquet. Miss Clara Bugner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was attired in a blue satin gown with pink carnations as a headpiece and bouquet. The bridesmaids were

Mary and Lorraine Weidner, sisters of the groom; Geraldine Baumann, cousin of the bride, and Jeanette Allen, friend of both the bride and groom. They wore pink satin gowns with blue carnations as headpieces and bouquets.

Eugene Weidner, brother of the groom was the best man. The ushers were Jerome Weidner, brother of the groom; Lawrence and Nicholas Bugner, brothers of the bride; and George Steffen, cousin of the bride.

At 12:30 a dinner was served for the bridal party, family, and relatives, in St. Mary's school hall. Five hundred guests attended the reception at 8:30 that night, also held in the school hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Weidner are now honeymooning in Florida and do not expect to return until the first of March. They will reside in Buffalo Grove.

Miss Geraldine Pittenger and Melvin Sedloff exchange vows

Miss Geraldine L. Pittenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Pittenger of Wood St., Palatine, became the bride of Melvin Sedloff, son of Mrs. Charles Davis of Chicago, January 28.

Rev. Floyd Gephart officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which took place at the Northwest Suburbs Bible church. Mrs. Arthur Lindahl was the organist. The church was decorated with palms and candles.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Beverly Osborne, aunt of the bride. She wore a blue satin gown and carried a bouquet of sweetpeas and snapdragons.

Norman Amado was the best man and Dwan Pittenger was an usher.

A reception was held in the church basement for 100 guests following the ceremony. The bride and groom will make their home at 36 S. Ashland.

Rev. Ismay to speak before Woman's club study group

The International Relations Study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet February 13 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Carl Ewert, 412 S. Belmont.

Rev. Robert Ismay will talk on "The Importance of Understanding our Latin American Neighbors." Mr. Ismay was born in Marcos Paz, Argentina, South America. He came to the United States in 1927. He returned to South America as a missionary and during his District Superintendency of the Methodist church visited Bolivia, Peru, Chile, Uruguay and Brazil. He returned to the United States in 1942 and came to Chicago as a Methodist minister in 1947 and to Arlington Heights in 1949.

All club members are invited. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. C. Y. Bradley and Mrs. I. S. Parker.

Hears talk on constitution
Hugh C. Kibbie, speaking before the Arlington Heights Woman's club's American Citizenship Study group January 31, presented an interesting word picture of the Constitutional Convention and the indissoluble Union of the indestructible States which it ordained and established by the Constitution. He traced the action for liberty and independence won by force of arms through the league embodied in the Articles of Confederation to the successful formation of a perfect Union. He likened the Constitution to a creation and the creature of the people themselves, as absolute sovereigns.

Kibbie's talk was the third in the series of discussions on "The Story of the Constitution." The meeting was held at the Jon in Prospect Heights, with residence of Mrs. Shlemon Davaas chairman.

Mrs. Goldthwaite, in her opening remarks, spoke of the symbolic meaning of the stars and stripes of our flag, pointing out that 132 years ago Illinois was admitted to the Union, becoming the 21st star.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. William H. Spears, committee chairman, announced that Senator Arthur J. Bidwell will be guest speaker at the group's March 30 meeting.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Davalson were Mrs. Rudolph Bandeloff and Mrs. Spears. (AM)

St. Peter Mothers' Club to celebrate 9th birthday

St. Peter Mother's club of Arlington Heights will meet February 10 at the school at 8 p. m. This will be the Mother's club's 9th year in existence and the occasion will be celebrated by a birthday party.

This birthday party is an annual event and members' husbands are invited to attend. The school's teachers have planned the entertainment for the evening.

Couple honored at surprise party on 40th anniversary

A surprise party was given for Mr. and Mrs. George Niemeyer of Arlington Heights on their 40th wedding anniversary. The Niemeyers' children and their families and some close friends gave the party.

A delicious supper was served and the couple received many lovely gifts.

For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN

Cupids and darts with Cherry Cream tarts makes an ideal fare for a Valentine party.

Perhaps you have a party planned or have been asked to make some refreshment for a school or church affair. Here are some ideas to help you.

The tasty valentine tarts are filled with a smooth, cream filling edged with a fluffy meringue. (To simulate a lacy valentine use a pastry tube to pipe on meringue.) A bit of thickened cherry sauce propped on the center of each tart adds the finishing touch.

Accompany the tarts with hot chocolate topped with whipped cream and pink and white open-faced heart sandwiches. These simple, but attractive refreshments are favorites with the children.

Cut the bread slices with a heart shaped cookie cutter. Spread half of them with whipper cream cheese and the remainder with the cheese tinted pink. Arrange on a large sandwich plate in a spoked wheel fashion and garnish the center of the plate with crisp parsley bouquet.

Cherry Cream Tarts

(6 tarts)
Pastry: Make a plain pastry for a 2 crust pie and divide into 6 equal portions.

If you do not have individual tart tins, form the shells on the back of a muffin tin.

Filling:
1 cup sugar
5 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter
3 egg yolks, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix thoroughly cornstarch, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Add milk slowly and blend. Stir over low flame or on low heat until thickened. Continue cooking, stirring constantly until mixture has bubbled for about 2 minutes. Remove from heat and add butter. Then add a little of this hot mixture to the egg yolks blending thoroughly. Combine the two and cook again over hot water for 2 minutes (to cook the egg yolks). Cover and place aside to cool.

Cherry Topping:
1 cup drained tart pie cherries
1/4 cup cherry juice
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar

Mix cornstarch and sugar in a small pan. Add cherry juice gradually and cook over low heat until thick and clear in appearance. Add cherries and continue to cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat and let cool.

Meringue:
3 egg whites
Few grains salt
1/4 cup granulated sugar
Add salt to egg whites and beat slightly—until frothy. Add sugar, a teaspoon at a time, and continue beating until meringue holds firm peaks as beater is drawn out of bowl.

Divide cooled cream filling into 6 baked tart shells. Spread cool cherry topping over cream filling. Pipe on meringue with pastry tube forming a light, fluffy design around the edge of the shell, leaving center of tart clear to show cherries.

Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) about 10 minutes or until light brown.

St. James Mother's club to meet today (Thursday)

Mother's club of St. James Catholic Woman's Guild, Arlington Heights, will hold its regular monthly meeting February 9 at the school at 1 p. m.

Through the courtesy of United Air Lines, a technical film, "Adventures in Hawaii," will be shown at this meeting.

Mrs. Louis S. Ray, vice-president in charge of programs, announced that the Mother's club will hold a luncheon at the Milk Foundation, 700 N. Wabash ave., Chicago, in the Colonial room, February 17, at 12:15 p. m. Members planning to attend will leave at 11 a. m. sharp from the school grounds.

An interesting program will be presented during the course of the luncheon, and at 2:30 p. m., over station WAIT, a "Radio House Party" will be broadcast. Friends of club members are also welcome to attend this luncheon. Reservations should be made by contacting Mrs. William Lynch, Arlington Heights 2919-R.

Mrs. Murphy reports that the group is short of cars, and she would appreciate having those who have cars and would be willing to drive to the luncheon, contact Mrs. Lynch.

Newcomer's club board members to meet tonight

The Newcomer's club of Arlington Heights will hold a board meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Cheney, 827 N. Yale ave., February 9.

A pot luck supper for men and women Newcomers will be held February 23 at the field house.

Dr. Irving Lee to speak at Woman's club Men's night

Men's night for the Arlington Heights Woman's club, an annual affair, will be on Valentine's Day, February 14, at 8 p. m. in the field house.

Dr. Irving J. Lee, lecturer and author, will speak on "The Pursuit of Ignorance." Modern studies in the psychology of ignorance have shown how destructive is false knowledge—how simple errors in thinking can have complex effects—why men wish in some areas act childishly in others. Dr. Lee is well versed in this subject. He is professor of public speaking in the School of Speech at Northwestern university. He works as consultant with the Northwestern Traffic Institute and National Safety Council on safety education and is past president of the International Society for General Semantics.

Dr. Lee is the author of "Language Habits in Human Affairs" and "The Language of Wisdom and Folly," as well as numerous articles and pamphlets.

The Variety Four, a barber shop quartet, will entertain the members and guests. They are Darwin Lange, baritone, and Fred Gohs, lead, of Barrington, Howard Wenzel, bass, of Algonquin, and William Lathen, tenor, of Arlington Heights. They have performed at father and son banquets, church affairs, the 4-H Fair and many other places.

Mrs. Walter P. Hermesdorf is chairman for Men's Night. Her committee members are Mrs. B. K. Babbitt, Mrs. E. A. Fahrner, Mrs. Harry T. Thompson and Mrs. Frank Menzel. All club members and their husbands are invited. Mrs. Hermesdorf, 2858, should be called for reservations. (AM)

DR. IRVING J. LEE

Methodist WSCS to hold meeting February 14

The Women's Society of Christian Service, Arlington Heights, will have a pot luck luncheon at 1 o'clock February 14, in the upper hall at the Methodist church.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Warren Fellingham will review the book "Mary" by Solomon Asch.

Mrs. Don Stockdale is in charge of the devotional service.

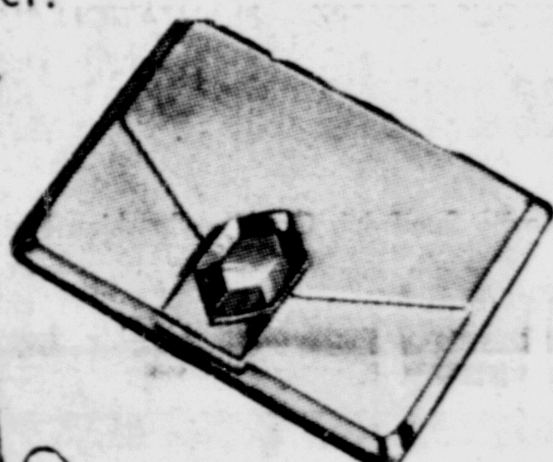

Mrs. Marvin W. Prellberg, president of the group, will preside.

There will be a nursery for small children whose mothers attend this service.

Square Dance

The Northwest Heighters square dance held Saturday night was such a success that everyone is looking forward to another similar affair. Ralph Thaxton's "Trail Blazer" orchestra was tops in music and in instructing the dances, and great fun was had by the participants, who were breathless but laughing after each dance.

The Northwest Betterment association wishes to extend its thanks to businessmen who allowed posters, advertising the dance, to be placed in their store windows. It especially appreciates the additional courtesies extended by Mr. Hagenbring. The association also wishes to thank the many people in the community who worked diligently to make the dance a success.

Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drew of New York City, mother and father of Theodore Drew, are visiting the family this week.

Entertaining

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Johnson were hosts to twelve guests Friday evening, at which time Wallie Silge Jr., showed his colored slides and gave an informal talk on his six months of travel in Europe. Mrs. Johnson stated that Wallie started right off with his experiences from New York City and the voyage across, on through the various countries he hitch-hiked through and the journey back home. His talk was most entertaining and a color photographer who was present, pronounced his slides to be excellent. After his lecture he was besieged with questions by his listeners who were very enthusiastic about his travelogue. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Woodbury of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reif, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Carlson and Miss Dona Carlson of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Johnson of Rogers Park.

Valentine box social at Presbyterian church next Wednesday night

Husbands and guests will be entertained by the Presbyterian Women's Association, Arlington Heights, at the church February 15, at 8 p. m. Entertainment for the evening is still a deep dark secret.

The committee wishes to emphasize that this is not exclusively a "couple affair," and all members and their guests will be included in the fun.

Each lady will try to make her lunch-box-for-two the most attractive and most tempting of all before turning it over to the auctioneers, Victor Beisler and Richard Black. Circle No. 2 will see that everyone has plenty of hot coffee. Mrs. Walter Daube is chairman of this group, and Mrs. William Arnold is co-chairman. (AM)

Bible church to hold Valentine's party Feb. 10

A Valentine's party will be held for members and friends of the Prospect Heights Bible church February 10 at the Prospect Heights school building at 7 p. m.

The decorations committee consists of Jean Hanauer and Jacky Riley, and Mrs. Frank Philander and Mrs. Leonard Garasha are in charge of refreshments. Games will be planned by Robert Pohlman and Ralph Burns.

Men Newcomer's group organizes, elects officers

Monday evening an enthusiastic group of new residents of Arlington Heights, members of the Men's Group, Newcomers Club, gathered at an open house meeting at the American Legion hall. More than 30 men were present.

A short business session was held and Edward J. Corcoran, 910 N. Walnut ave., was elected permanent chairman of the group. Charles Rapp, 411 S. Dunton st., was named as assistant chairman.

It was agreed that the group would meet regularly on the second and fourth Mondays of the month except every other month when the men will join the ladies of the Newcomer club at their regular gathering on the fourth Thursday of the month.

Plans were made to form a bowling league and golf teams and groups were organized to play various card games and ping pong. It was also proposed to hold picnic gatherings during the summer months.

After the business meeting refreshments were served and everyone present participated in the games that followed. The object of the group is to promote the Good Neighbor policy of Arlington Heights and to sponsor new friendships and the community spirit among new residents. All men who are new residents are invited to join in these gatherings.

Arlington high school cafeteria offers students nutritious and appetizing lunches at low cost

During the war, so many young men were rejected from army service because of physical defects related to nutritional deficiencies that the government was deeply concerned. Accordingly, the President of the United States called together a group of the country's leading nutritionists to set up a school lunch pattern which would help the oncoming generation to form better health and food habits.

The purpose of the supervised lunch program in the public schools which resulted from these meetings is two-fold:

1. To provide foods which will build strong healthy bodies.
  2. To train youngsters to learn to like a variety of foods.
- The nutritionists found that a growing youth requires for lunch each day in order to maintain his fullest energy: one-half pint of milk, two ounces of protein (meat, cheese, eggs, or fish) for building, three-eighths of a cup of fruit, enriched bread and butter (or fortified oleomargarine), and anything else needed to add up to one-third of the daily food requirements.

AT ARLINGTON Heights Township high school, Miss Mary Handlin, cafeteria director, carefully plans the school lunch menus to meet these accepted standards of nutrition. Miss Handlin is well qualified as a nutritionist having a degree of Master of Arts in Home Economics from Columbia university. She also supervised the lunch program training of student teachers for several years at Michigan State Teachers college. Last summer she studied the different types of institutional equipment and food service at the Pillsbury Test Kitchen, the St. John's hospital kitchen, and the Memorial hospital kitchen at Springfield.

Three types of lunches are offered to the high school students at Arlington Heights. The thirty-five cent lunch provides a balanced meal of from 800 to 1,000 calories. Patrons are usually offered some choice. The twenty-five cent lunch is provided for those desiring less food. Patrons are offered their choice of three sandwiches, a vegetable (either in the form of a side dish or in soup), a choice of fruit, and one-half pint of milk. Students who bring sack lunches from home may supplement their fare by buying—bowls of soup (ten cents), bottles of milk (four cents), ice-cream bars (six cents), candy

Parents of school children often hear complaints about the lunches they have to eat at high school. Well if a balanced, nutritious, and appetizing lunch is something to complain about, they can go right on complaining.

One day last week this reporter was a guest for lunch at the school and found nothing but praise for the food, both in the way it was cooked and served. Shown samples of the menus, some already served and some to be served in the future, all were appealing to the reporter.

The writer was only one of 60 invited during past months to have lunch at the school. All agreed the food was good and the menus tempting.

bars (five cents), or potato chips (five cents). About four hundred bars of candy and ice-cream are sold daily.

Assisting Miss Handlin are five excellent cooks, headed by Miss Ella Garmes. The others are Mrs. Sophia Fiene, Mrs. Ada Koch, Mrs. Helen Martini, and Mrs. Ella Kasting.

During the past few months, about sixty mothers have been guests of the cafeteria management. The mothers have eaten the regular student menus and have had an opportunity to observe the student body during the lunch period. They were invited to write unsigned criticism of the school lunch program. Their compliments were outstanding.

BESIDES describing the food as "delicious," "tasty," "attractively served," and "well-balanced," over half of them complimented the cafeteria staff upon the neatness and cleanliness of their kitchen and upon the orderliness and efficiency of their service. Many of them praised the student body for mannerly enjoyment of their lunch hour and their fine cooperation in neatly stacking their dishes and putting away their lunch bottles.

Some of the comments run as follows:

M A C S A Y
by G. A. McELROY

Barrington fans seem to be wondering if the Broncos are slipping or just a little stale from the weak conference opposition. It is true that until the Bensenville game they were not pressed by any league team the entire game and then pulled away at the finish. However the Broncos did not look good beating Elgin Friday night and were anything but sharp as they lost, 41-40, at Marmion Saturday. Barrington does not have the competition for first team positions this season which kept the boys on their toes last year, though we feel that this season's regular five is the better team and the best Broncho club in the history of the school. Anyway, Barrington does not need to be primed until after the district tournament. When they get to Evanston for the regional they will need to be at their best and if they are, there is now knowing just how far they might go.

State tourney tickets remain a scarce item

The same system for state tournament tickets will be used again this season with each school in the state getting four season books at $6.00 each. Other tickets are apportioned to the schools which reach the "Sweet Sixteen" finals at Champaign and are based on their enrollment. It is the best way the state association has found to handle the ticket situation.

Schools are urged by the state association to not allow any students to go to Champaign to see the tournament unless they have tickets and a place to stay. The student situation which causes many to leave school and spend three or four days in Champaign sleeping in cars and without supervision is one of the chief complaints against the tournament.

Another is that the North Central Association frowns on mid-week basketball games and most of the suburban schools play only on week ends, yet in the state series, most of the games are on nights before school days.

Good suggestions for state tournament changes

One suggestion we have heard for this area is that instead of the present eliminations, the champs of the suburban conferences meet in a week end tournament and send the winner to the state. This idea has a lot of merit.

Another idea is to have a four team tournament in Champaign instead of 16 as many high school gyms in various parts of the state could handle nearly as many as at the University of Illinois. Fewer teams to travel to Champaign would mean less disruption in school work.

Indiana has had the four team idea for years, playing the tournament on a Saturday at Butler Field House in Indianapolis where they can seat three times the Illinois 6,000. There is no housing problem for such a tournament. Those who oppose state tournaments might as well reconcile themselves to the fact that they will not be abolished. The better idea is to eliminate many of the faults and problems involved.

Suburban principals have organized a committee to study the problem and make recommendations to the state association. This is the first time the schools of this area have banded together and if they will stick it out they can bring a tremendous pressure for improvement of the contest set-up all down the line, including music, speech, and other activities.

Bird's eye view of suburban basketball

Crystal Lake has clinched the North Suburban crown, but had to play an overtime to turn the trick at Zion Saturday. The Lakers play Palatine in the Elgin regional and after beating the Pirates, barring a major upset, will again meet Dundee. It may be the third time is the charm, and we pick Dundee to avenge two earlier defeats at the hands of Coach Brady's boys.

Morton is way out in front in the big Suburban League without a defeat. They came through the crucial game with Evanston with a decisive win. Dundee and Wheaton are tied in the Little Seven as DeLacey's Cardinals rolled Naperville out of first contention under a 70 point barrage. Wheaton lost their ace player at the semester, and that means Dundee is just about in as league champ.

There are more real good ball clubs in the Big Eight than in any league in the state. West Aurora is back to second rating in the state. They lost to Freeport after beating Elgin. Then Freeport lost to East Rockford, but Elgin lost to West Rockford, but LaSalle-Peru, supposedly weak, upset West Rockford. It is quite a merry go round. It could happen that three Big Eight teams might go to the state.

Argo is on top in the South Suburban with their big center slated to be out of action until the tournament. Argo still might upset Morton in the regional and go all the way. York hangs on as top team in a closely matched West Suburban race.

Among the unattached teams Niles is looking good of late. They whipped Maine badly. Arlington has slipped with four straight losses and finally get home after a month to meet tough Mooseheart with Harry Childress, one of the finest ball players in the state. Childress vs. Busse should be a small man's battle worth watching.

Aurora bowlers lead Lutheran meet at Palatine

Visiting keggers are coping top honors in the Northwest Lutheran bowling tournament now going on week ends at Meier-Helms Recreation in Palatine. The meet, taking all alleys after 6 p. m. Saturdays and all day Sundays, has ten more weeks to run.

Heading the singles after two weeks of rolling are G. Stallman, Aurora, with 696. Second is E. Powell, Downers Grove, 672.

IN DOUBLES competition an Aurora duo, W. Kroening and E. Giese, top the list with 1238. Second spot includes E. Hagedorn and G. Hayes of Barrington with 1276.

Team events find Trinity Lutheran of Oak Park at the top with 2949. Next are Casablanca of Palatine with 2925, and Schroeder Service of Palatine with 2915.

All events standings are not available.

Double weekend on tap for all NW cage squads

by G. A. McELROY

Highlighting a double session of Northwest games on Friday and Saturday will be the Bensenville at Palatine double bill Saturday night in which second place is at stake in both divisions of the standings. Palatine's varsity with an 8-3 record must beat Bensenville's 7-4 to win undisputed second place. If the Pirates lose and then also lose to Barrington in the season final the Bisons would take undisputed second.

Palatine hopes to win both of these final big contests with a home court advantage considered worth more to them than is the home environment of any other team. Palatine has a six foot team, a strong defense, and the advantage of defending on a very narrow floor, only 38 feet wide. The regulation floor is 50 feet wide. Palatine has not lost a home game this conference season and is determined to keep this record intact.

BENSENVILLE frosh - sophos have an 8-3 record while Palatine's 7-4 is the challenger for second place. The Palatine frosh-sophos must win both from Bensenville and Barrington to get a tie for second place, and Grant this Friday is also no pushover. When Bisons and Pirates met before Christmas at Bensenville the Bison varsity took 46-42 and the frosh-sophos took a 45-29 decision with some hot shooting.

Barrington can clinch two undisputed championships in home games with Antioch Friday. Both teams have three game leads and if they win, will be three up and only two left to play. No worse than a tie is already clinched as both boast 11-0 records. It appears rather unlikely that either Barrington will meet defeat in the league schedule, though Palatine is determined to turn the trick February 17.

SATURDAY Wauconda has their chance to break into the win column when they meet Grant for the second time. In the first meeting Wauconda played without two regular performers and lost to an underdog Grant five. The result will probably be reserved this time.

In other Friday games Palatine is favored at Grant, Elgin should recover after four straight losses to beat Wauconda, and Northbrook is the underdog at Bensenville. Saturday the Bison-Pirate game is a toss up, Barrington is hoped to win at Northbrook, the Grant at Wauconda game gives the home team a slight edge, while Elgin at Antioch should be a win for Elgin, but it will be close.

Mooseheart's Red Ramblers to invade Arlington Friday

Mooseheart's unpredictable Red Ramblers will attempt to regain winning stride Friday when they travel northward to Arlington Heights. It will be Mooseheart's first crack of the season at Coach Gene Bell's Arlington Heights Cardinals.

For Arlington it will be the first home game since January 7. The Cards went traveling for five games, losing the last four after pulling the prize upset of Crystal Lake. The locals then lost to DeKalb, Libertyville, Leyden and Belvidere.

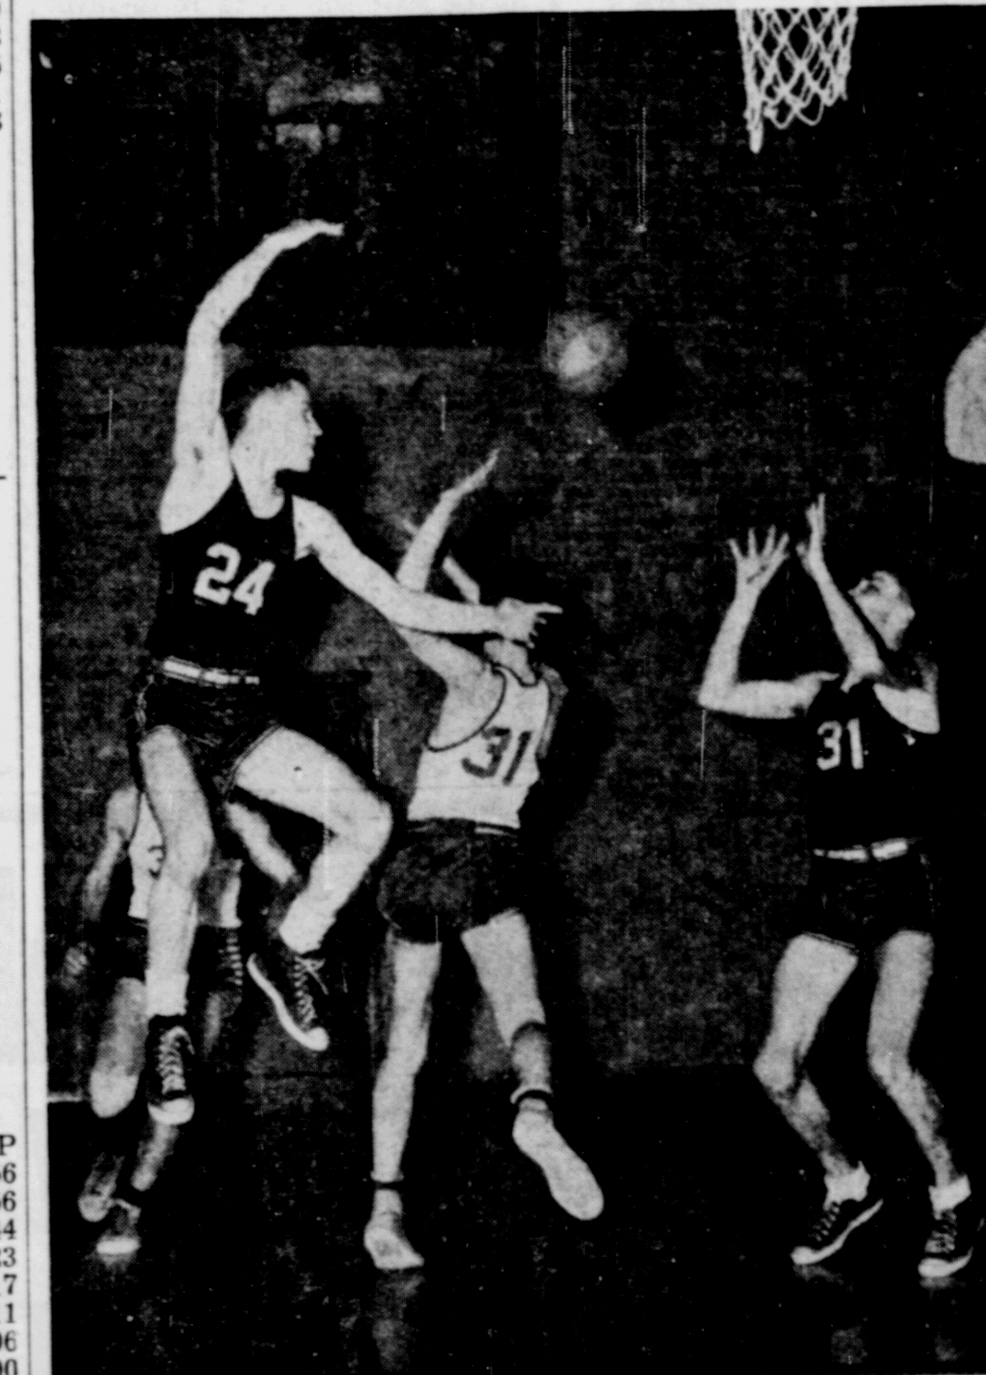

Saturday night the Cards travel to St. Edward hoping to repeat as victors. In the earlier meeting of the two schools, Arlington staved off an Edward rally to win, 34-33. This game will be played in the guard armory in Elgin as in other years.

MOOSEHEART will enter Friday's game with a 9-9 record and will seek revenge for a beating Arlington handed them last year. The Red Ramblers from the Child City have defeated Leyden, Niles of Skokie, Hyde Park of Chicago twice, Cathedral of Springfield, St. Charles, Menline, Waterman and Richmond. Mooseheart has been defeated by Decatur, Casey, St. Edward of Elgin, Marengo, Joliet Catholic, Hoopeson, University High of Normal, Belvidere and Bloom (Chicago Heights).

Last week end Mooseheart divided their games with Hyde Park of Chicago and Bloom of Chicago Heights. Mooseheart defeated Hyde Park 47 to 44 on Friday afternoon, but dropped a thrilling 26 to 26 overtime decision to Bloom.

OUTSTANDING player on the Mooseheart five is Harry Childress, with 333 points tallied in just 14 games. That's an average of just short of 24 per game. Against Mendota recently Childress totaled 34 of his team's 55 points. Best of all, however, Harry is known for his dribbling and floor play.

Waznik passes as Pirates win, 44-23

John Waznik (24) passes to Bob Steinbrink (31) for Palatine while Lindmark (31) of Wauconda attempts to deflect the ball. The Pirates won, 44-23.

Shown here is the first-string offensive battery of Mooseheart's basketball team that invades the Arlington Heights gym this Friday night. The Mooseheart team aims to better its .500 average (they've won nine and lost nine) by winning from the Cardinals. Left to right, they are: Jim McAnelly, Bloomington; Dick Kortus, Berwyn; Bob Friday, Taft, Calif.; Lane Lam, Covington, Va.; Co-Capt. Harry Childress, Clinchco, Va.; and Co-Capt. Don Morris, Pekin.

A senior, Harry stands at 5' 7 1/2", weighs 145 pounds. He was selected on at least one all-state football team last fall, and is expected to graduate this summer with 16 major letters. He has already salted away four each in basketball and football, has one to go playing shortstop in baseball, and is known as a hurdler on the track team.

MOOSEHEART's frosh - soph team has captured 14 decisions out of 17, losing to Decatur, Springfield Cathedral and Hyde Park's juniors. Mooseheart's frosh-soph team collides with Arlington's frosh-soph in Friday's preliminary.

Mooseheart's starting lineup will be the same as the one which opened against Bloom Saturday night. Coach Dale Smith has stuck by his starting five for several weeks and there are no indications that he'll change his mind before Friday's tilt.

That line-up will include co-captains Don Morris and Harry Childress at forwards. Bob Friday will be in his accustomed center slot and Lane Lam and Ron Fridley will open as guards. Mooseheart's cage mentor, has indicated that freshman Gerald Johann has been improving steadily and might break into action as a replacement for Bob Friday.

A SPECIAL contingent of fans rooting for Mooseheart will be 25 Des Plaines members of the Loyal Order of Moose, who have purchased a block of 25 seats just behind the visitors' bench.

Freight Train Speeds
Average speed of freight trains was higher in 1948 than in any year since 1941 and was an increase of more than 25 per cent above that of 20 years ago.

3rd period drives give Bison fives Antioch victories

by BOB PADDOCK

Bensenville's Bisons grabbed an early lead, hung on, then spurred ahead the third quarter to garner a 42-30 win at Antioch Friday night in Northwest conference play. Thus did the DuPage county five keep within fighting distance of Palatine in the league battle for second place.

Scoring for Coach Frank Navotny's five was evenly divided with five men notching 4, 8, 9, 10 and 11 points. Top man on the score's table was Brown with four and three. Anderson, tied for league scoring honors with Klein of Palatine, was held to just one basket, though he did manage to drop in eight charities.

Paulos and the two Havilands were the offensive drive for the Sequoits. The 16-8 third period drove the Bisons, though, put the game on ice.

THE FROSH-SOPH preliminary saw both squads keep even the first half, 12-12. Bensenville had been behind the opening frame. But a 16-2 third stanza copped the game for the south-erners, the final tally adding to 38-18.

Palm with 12, Daly with 10 and Paetz with 7 accounted for most of the winners' points. Weber's six was tops for Antioch.

Palatine bowlers win Elgin tournament

Tharp's Funeral Home keggers took first place money in the team division of Elgin Bowling association tourney concluded this past Sunday at Elgin's two rolling establishments. Their 3039 including a 330 handicap wps tops.

Trousch Recreation of Bensenville was sixth in the team standings with a 307 handicap and 3014 grand total. Singles division which opened play this week along with the doubles group, finds W. Wendt of Bensenville and H. Gehrke of Wood Dale ranking second and third. Wendt's 635 (69) 704 and Gehrke's 605 (76) 681 will both be in the money.

Look for matches

Art's Meat Balls, Arlington Heights bowling "beef trust," is read to take on all comers in the 825 class. Just last week they shut off the grinder and eked out a win over Roy's Hot Shots. Squads wishing matches can ask Rose photo for Art at Arl. Hts. 1577.

Palatine to meet Crystal Lake in regional opener

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington's Cardinals have gained a break in the pairings for the Elgin regional it was learned this week when official lists were released by the state office. They will meet Woodstock in the second contest Tuesday night, February 28, at the Watch City school.

Of course, Coach Gene Bell's cagers have not been faring too well against good competition this season, but maybe the tournament will bring out the best in them. Victory over the Streaks would pit the locals against Elgin.

Fans can remember that near upset of the tournament favorite last year when the Heights lads pushed Peterson, Survant, and company all the way, bowing by just one point, 48-47.

FOR PALATINE the experts see nothing but trouble right from the opening gun. They take on Crystal Lake. The Tigers ranked "honorable mention" among the state's better teams, pounded Coach Stutzman's boys unmercifully before, and could do it again.

But the Pirates have proven formidable on at least two occasions this year, and could spring an upset. Probable results will see the Lakers and Dundee winning Wednesday night of that week.

Thursday night should see Elgin emerging victorious with Crystal Lake again trouncing Dundee (for the third time and contrary to sports editor Mac's hunch). You pick the final.

BENSENVILLE has drawn Hinsdale for its opening competition in the Glenbard regional, and thus ends the story for Coach Frank Navotny's five.

Most of the Northwest schools open the tourney drives a week earlier in the Barrington district. The Broncos certainly rate the favorite here and should go on to the Evanston regional.

Elgin Regional: Elgin vs. McHenry; Arlington vs. Woodstock; Crystal Lake vs. Palatine; Dundee vs. Woodstock (St. Mary's) district winner.

Woodstock (St. Mary's) District: St. Mary's of Woodstock vs. Huntley; Canyon vs. Richmond; Hebron vs. St. Mary's of Woodstock-Huntley winner; St. Edward's of Elgin vs. Capron-Richmond winner.

Evanston Regional: Evanston vs. Zion; Waukegan vs. Libertyville; New Trier of Winnetka vs. Highland Park; Niles of Skokie vs. Barrington district winner.

Barrington District: Wauconda vs. Grant of Ingleside; Barrington vs. Lake Forest; Northbrook vs. Antioch; Lake Zurich vs. Gurnee; Grayslake vs. Wauconda-Ingleside of Grant winner.

Glen Ellyn (Glenbard) Regional: York of Elmhurst vs. Glenbard of Glen Ellyn; Downers Grove vs. Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst; Hinsdale vs. Bensenville; Maine of Des Plaines vs. Lisle (St. Procopius) district winner.

Lisle (St. Procopius) District: Fournier Institute of Lemont vs. St. Procopius of Lisle; Lemont vs. St. Mary's of Des Plaines.

Mt. Prospect boxer loses in tourney

Semi-final bouts in the annual boxing tournament of the 15-state Ninth Naval District were held Wednesday night, February 1.

Results of Wednesday night's bouts: Heavyweight, Gerald Swanson, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Swanson of Cranestown, Penn., won a decision over Edward Johnson, fireman, USN, of 119 Hill st., Mt. Prospect.

Try would, however, net them first in the western division and the record of the Chicago en-second in the east.

Northwest conference frosh cage tournament at Barrington March 6-8

The Second Annual Northwest Conference Freshman Tournament will be played at Barrington March 6, 7, and 8 with seven conference teams and Grayslake making up the eighth team bracketing. Grayslake was added to take the place of Antioch who declined to compete. Four games will be played the first day at 4:00, 5:00, 6:00, and 7:00 p. m. Semi-finals will be played the second evening at 7:00 and 8:00 and the third place and championship games at the same time the third night.

Pairings find Palatine opposing Grayslake and Bensenville playing Grant in the upper bracket and Northbrook meeting Elgin and Wauconda playing Barrington in the lower section. On the basis of season's records Barrington is established as the tournament favorite, having had an undefeated season against league competition. Palatine upset Barrington by one point in the semi-finals last year and then beat Wauconda in the final to win the tournament.

Chicago Stags continue their heavy schedule of play Friday night when they stop off at Philadelphia on their way back home from Boston where Coach Phil Brownstein's boys knocked out the fifth consecutive win over the Celtics.

The Stags drop back to New York Saturday. Tuesday night, February 14, they entertain the Rochester Royals, while the Celtics oppose Denver in the opener.

Stags chasing 2nd; Rochester in city Tuesday

THE STAGS are currently 3rd in the central division standings of the pro league, still attempting to keep up with the Lakers and Rochester.

The record of the Chicago en-second in the east.

News! Barrington clinches NW title in 43-31 over Ela

Barrington high school clinched at least a tie for the Northwest basketball conference championship Friday as it racked up its eleventh straight conference victory, overwhelming Lake Zurich, 43-31.

Turning back the Lake Zurich frosh-sophs 39-20, the Barrington yearlings turned in their 11th straight conference win also as they clinched at least a tie for the frosh-soph title.

In the varsity encounter George Hansen and Guy Armanetti tabbed 14 and 13 points respectively to lead the Barrington scoring with Don Poeschel scoring 10 points for Ela.

Cards fail to solve cracker box Leyden defense, 41-27

by RON PRELLBERG

A small floor and a tight zone defense were two of the determining factors in a 41-27 shellacking of the Arlington Cardinal bucketeers on the Leyden cracker-box court last Friday night, February 3. A great deal of trouble was had by the local quintet on the offensive angle as this extremely small court provided for a tight and surprisingly effective zone defense applied by the victors.

The Cardinals have yet to have a good night at the basket for the second half of their 22 game schedule, as only 7 field goal attempts dropped through the hoop compared to the 15 successful attempts notched by the Leyden five. Gordon Busse, eagle-eyed Red Bird forward, displayed much improvement over his previous showings as Gordon hit for 4 of the 7 Cardinal field goals, while for Leyden Loigren, through unceasingly aggressive play, totaled 6 baskets. This defeat was the third in a row for the fighting local five.

THE OPENING three minutes were all Heights as an early 4-1 lead was snatched from the home squad's grasp, but an abrupt end was dealt the Cards' attack when in the closing minutes of the first frame the locals discovered themselves on the bottom side of a 7-6 count. A man to man defense thrown against the local cagers brought forth the frequently effective Cardinal offensive system for the major part of the opening frame and kept the Cardinal opponents quite baffled until a defensive switch was deemed necessary by the Leyden Eagles.

A stronger 6 counter lead was claimed by the home quintet the second period as they managed to outpoint the Cards, 9-4, for this period. Not one basket found its mark for the Red Birds in the second segment. Four free throws were made by Bob Raschke (2), Jim Brown and Paul Fasick.

HIGH SCORING third period by both teams favored the Leydenites for the first quarter of the second half. The astonishing total of 17 tallies was added to the Eagles' first half total of 16, thus raising their third frame tally to 33, while the locals were able to add a still higher quarter count of 12 to their opening half way count of 10. The fourth and final frame also favored the victors when three baskets and two charity tosses were compared to the one basket and three free throws of the locals. Bob Evans, after entering the Arlington lineup in an unfit physical condition, did much to spur on the local onslaught the final frame, although Bob was not credited with any scoring honors.

What was seemingly a sure Arlington frosh-soph victory was given a quick turn in the final segment as the Cards, after leading for three quarters, fell behind their Franklin Park opponents in the remaining seconds, 25-21. Big Jay Vawter proved a capable contributor to the local cause throughout the entire 28 minutes of action by notching a grand total of 8. Ronnie Grace was not far from Jay as local high scorer, as Ronnie emerged with 6 for 6 charity tosses to his credit.

A hard fought first quarter was viewed the opening minutes

NU vs Wisconsin, DePaul vs Bradley at Stadium Sat.

Northwestern attempts to regain its winning ways this Saturday night at the Stadium, but will have its hands full when it finds it must dispose of Wisconsin.

The Wildcats have been anything but wild ever since the first couple of Big Ten conference games were history. The home floor advantage should aid the Evanston five, if the Stadium hardwood can be called that.

THE OTHER contest is the headliner of the evening with Bradley meeting DePaul. Bradley has a 19-3 slate to date, and just this week was rated second in the nation.

DePaul will be out to garner a 500 rating for the year. Tuesday night's 67-59 victory over Cincinnati gave Coach Meyer nine wins against ten losses.

Palatine takes double victory over Wauconda

Palatine won their 4th straight Northwest Conference double bill Friday night at Wauconda as the frosh-sophs scored in the final five seconds to win, 39-37, and the varsity made a strong second half to run away, 44-23.

Palatine's varsity was an over-confident team which played very poor ball at the start of the game, trailing 7-3 the first quarter and finally gaining a lead of 19-15 at the half. In the second half the Pirates held Wauconda to eight points and themselves tallied 25. Don Klein scored 22 points for Palatine on eight field goals and six out of nine free throws to gain a tie with Anderson of Bensenville in the league scoring. Waznik and Steinbrink each scored eight points. Bob Nolan, Wauconda's sophomore sensation, racked up 15 of his team's 23 points on six fielders and a trio of charity shots. It was Palatine's eighth league triumph in 11 starts.

The Palatine frosh-sophs led most of a very close ball game but fell behind near the finish. They tied the score with 20 seconds to play and won it in the last five seconds on a field goal by big Don Buenzow. The score at the half was Palatine 23, Wauconda 22. Jim Vogt was high point man of the game with 14 while Buenzow and Day each got eight for Palatine. Boehr had nine and Kersten seven for Wauconda.

Northbrook beats Grant twice

by WARNER BACHAR

Grant lost both ends of a doubleheader to Northbrook last Friday. The varsity took an easy victory by a score of 45 to 35. Art Landwehr starred as the Viking Frosh-Soph won a hard-fought game in an overtime period. The score was 45 to 44. This was Northbrook's first overtime game this season.

Art Landwehr was the stand-out in the game. He dumped in the tying points in the last ten seconds of the game, which put the score to 38 all. Then he scored all seven points in the overtime period to obtain another victory for Northbrook. This gives the Viking Frosh-Soph their third win against eight losses. This record doesn't seem very impressive, but most of their losses have been by close margins.

Scoring honors were taken by Landwehr with 20 points, Moore with 14 points, and Stob with 12 points.

THE VARSITY Vikings took an early lead and maintained it throughout the game. The score at the half was 21 to 16 in favor of Northbrook. The Vikings then pulled ahead by 12 points during the third quarter. The Bulldogs outscored the Vikings in the last quarter, while Richard Rodney displayed a dribbling and passing act which left his opponents wondering.

Roy Hacker boosted his total points to 144; he took scoring honors with 16 points. Dayton was next with 11 points.

Northbrook will be host to Barrington on Saturday night, February 11. On Friday the Vikings will travel to Bensenville.

Anderson pushed for scoring honors

It looks like Gerald Anderson of Bensenville may be pushed for Northwest conference scoring honors more than was expected. Don Klein, Palatine's hard working forward, scored 22 points at Wauconda to tie the defending champ with 156 points apiece for 11 games. This will add interest to the Pirate-Bison set to Saturday night when these boys are opponents. Anderson still has the edge for Palatine closes the season with Barrington while Bensenville finds easier pickings in Wauconda.

Pirate track team to meet 12 opponents this coming season

Palatine's track team will meet the most opponents this year of any season in the history of the school since Coach Welty has scheduled so many triangular meets. On the Pirate schedule are Barrington, Bensenville, Grant, and Antioch of the Northwest Conference; Lake Forest of the North Suburban; Batavia, Geneva and West Chicago of the Little Seven, and Arlington, Niles, Leyden and Mooseheart among unattached schools. This is a total of 12 opponents. Palatine has quite a flock of point scorers returning from last year's conference track champs. They will be pointing for the Palatine Relays title this year which they missed by a close margin the past two seasons.

High school summer baseball league may be formed

A high school summer baseball league is a strong possibility, says one of the Northwest-Railway line. Monday Guy Curtright, Woodstock coach, is calling a meeting of schools interested in such a league. Palatine and Barrington will be represented along with Crystal Lake, Marengo, McHenry, Harvard, Dundee and others. If it is formed, games will be played through June and July on a twilight basis. Such a program would probably be included in the Park activity schedule in Palatine and Barrington.

4th quarter spurt gives Belvidere win over Cards

by RON PRELLBERG

A fourth period Belvidere onslaught of 11 markers turned the tables on the Arlington Cardinal bucketeers and sent them on their homeward journey with a 37-35 defeat. The Cardinals were sincere in their effort to win as they were able to dominate every minute of play until midway in the final period when a stolen ball and a fast break netted the Belvidere Bucs a basket and a two-tally advantage. Through the able assistance of Gordie Busse and his 18 counters, the Red Birds were successful in edging out a slight advantage each segment.

For the first time in weeks, the locals took an early lead and held onto it until the sound of the final first period buzzer. Thirteen markers were carded by the Heights quintet through the opening frame with three quick baskets by Bill Morrison starting the visitors on their early splurge. The switching man to man defense applied by the home squad seemed to have little if any effect on the Cardinal offensive play as enough shots were attempted by the Arlingtonites to award them a four-point margin for this frame, 13-9.

PAUL ROCHE and Bob Fasick proved themselves eager to increase the Cardinal lead for the second segment as each totaled three counters, thus contributing generously to a hard earned five tally second frame margin. The Bucs tried desperately to keep up with the then hot local five by pushing thru two baskets and four charity tosses to total eight.

An entirely different attitude was displayed by the home squad the third frame when the Belvidere Bucs managed to narrow down the Cardinal lead to two. Another step toward victory was taken by the Bucs in the third period when all the local counters were left to Gordon Busse, while the Belvidere five distributed evenly between three of their cagers the labor involved in obtaining their nine.

Arlington fought fiercely to retain their two point lead throughout the fourth and final frame. A tying free throw was then quickly made by the visitors with two minutes to go and from then on the Bucs were destined to emerge the favorite.

AHTHS FANS weren't entirely downcast by the varsity loss as a breathtaking frosh-soph tilt involving the locals and the Belvidere frosh-sophs turned to a three minute overtime for its 47-45 decision in favor of the locals. A 10 marker lead was had by the Bucs' soph at one time but this lead never appeared to bother the Arlington sophs as they cut it down to 4 by the end of the third quarter.

Aggressive play was shown by the local quintet each period as this enormous lead was gradually eliminated as the period progressed. The height possessed by Cardinal center, Jay Vawter, did wonders for the local squad when Jay fought his way to high point position with 15.

The Arlington team seemed no match for the fast breaking Bucs the first and second periods as the home squad came forth with a 12-6 advantage the first and a 12-11 the second frame. Four successful field attempts were accounted for by the locals in the opening two frames, compared to the eight of Belvidere. Jay Vawter dropped in 2 for his mates in the first while Don Johannes notched 3 to become the home team main threat.

THE THIRD period proved to be a real field day for the local squad when a surprising 15 markers were notched against the Bucs in the form of 6 baskets and 3 charity tosses. Six counters were shaved from the Belvidere lead thus setting Arlington only 4 tallies in back, 30-26. Through spirit and ability, the Card sophs were able to knot the game at 39 all before the buzzer tolled the fourth frame finish. A win was the main thought of the Cardinal bucketeers as they advanced into the overtime and a win it was for the locals when the final count placed Heights ahead, 47-45.

When milk is pasteurized, it is exposed to a temperature not less than 145 degrees F. for at least 30 minutes, then is cooled rapidly to 20 degrees to 40 degrees F. This makes it keep longer, by killing some of the organisms that cause it to sour.

Chicago Bears sign Charley Hunsinger

The Chicago Bears have signed their Prize New Player for 1950!

George Halas, president and head coach, announced the signing of Charley "Chuck" Hunsinger, the sensational ball totin' halfback from the University of Florida. Hunsinger was the Bears' Number One choice in the National Football League "player draft."

Halas announced the acquisition of the star halfback following a meeting Wednesday between his son, George Halas, Jr., and Hunsinger in Gainesville, Fla. The Bears made no secret of the fact that the signing of Hunsinger was their first objective of the off-season.

Hunsinger, a product of Southern Illinois, gained recognition at the University of Florida as one of the greatest halfbacks of recent years. He was unanimous All-Southeastern choice in 1948 and 1949. Primarily a runner, Hunsinger gained a total of 774 yards in 122 tries last fall with a losing ball team. He averaged better than 6 yards per try while scoring 72 points. Hunsinger gained 342 yards in 1948 for an average of better than 7 yards per try. He scored 12 touchdowns, chiefly on long runs.

Selected by the Bears in the annual "player draft" over many of the most highly publicized college stars in years, Hunsinger is 24 years old, stands 6 feet, and weighs 188 pounds.

He is a ten second man. After gaining all-state honors at Harrisburg, Ill., as a football player, cager and hurdler, Hunsinger entered the Navy in 1944. He played with Ray Bray with the Jacksonville Naval Base eleven. Bray recommended the youngster to Halas upon his discharge in 1946, and the Bears have had their eyes on Hunsinger ever since.

Arlington J-V squad loses to Niles, 37-16

by RON PRELLBERG

A temporary Arlington Cardinal JV squad gave a dim account of their ability Friday afternoon on the AHTHS floor when a Junior five from Niles notched basket after basket to round out a 37-16 win over their home team opponents. Exceptionally lean scoring on the part of the Red Birds was witnessed for the first three quarters with Arlington taking it on the chin the opening frame, 5-1, the second, 18-6, and the third, 30-8. Jack Clark and Jim Blackburn were leading scorers for the locals by notching eleven and three respectively.

The darkest period of all for the home squad came in the first frame when Arlington was left stranded with a mere one tally. Two field goals and one free throw were made by Clark of

Card frosh trip Niles

by RON PRELLBERG

Revenge was the word spelled out through the performance of the Arlington Heights freshman cagers on their own floor last Friday afternoon when a mere 11 points were allowed the Niles frosh in a 27-11 struggle. This evened up the Arlington-Niles frosh series at one apiece and also gave the local freshmen a .750 record for the eight games to date.

A brilliant defensive fight was staged by the AHTHS yearlings as the Niles five were held to not more than four markers for each of the four periods. Johnny Eakins, Herb Gorder and Dick McAuliffe were the main contributors to the local scoring cause by notching 8, 7 and 7 respectively.

A three tally advantage was claimed by the locals for the first frame with a nine point margin in their favor for the second. Roy Hinneberg and Richard McAuliffe paced the Cardinals for the opening half with two field goals and one charity toss for each while Herb Gorder and Johnny Eakins composed the rest of the

Wilson school community news

Wilson school community—Lud The regular monthly PTA will be held at 8 p. m. February 10. The children will sing western songs and the subject of the movie will be "Trees to Tribulation." This will be an important meeting, as members will vote on a new set of by-laws which will be recommended by the committee appointed for this purpose.

There was a record attendance at the benefit party given at the school on February 4. The next party is scheduled for March 4. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Campagna have moved into the Frank Bauer home, next door to the school. The Campagnas have three children, Penny, 4 years old, Gary 2, and Peggy, 1. They moved here recently from Northbrook, and like their new surroundings very much.

Frank Maierhoefer, father of Louis Maierhoefer, died at his home last Friday. The funeral will be held from the Roy Haben funeral parlors, Niles Center rd., Skokie.

Fred Bista Jr. was promoted January 13 from Pfc. to Corporal. He is still stationed at Shaw Field, Sumter, S. C.

Andrew Waller Sr. spent five days at St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin, but is now home and on the road to recovery.

Several children have been home from school this past week with colds. This unusual "California" weather is hard on the respiratory system, so those scarfs and rubbers should be kept on.

Preventing Ketosis

The feeding of some form of sugar for a few days before and for two or three weeks after freshening some times helps to prevent ketosis in dairy cows.

Elk Tales from Elk Grove

Mark your calendars for Friday, Feb. 17, 8 p. m. for a party at the Elk Grove school sponsored by the teaching staff. Dancing to the music of Heine's orchestra, movies for the children and refreshments have been arranged. Another feature will be the Swedish embroidered knitting bag so graciously donated by Mrs. John Mecklenburg. The purpose of this party is to help replace the funds recently stolen from the school.

The Ladies Aid of St. John Lutheran church, Elk Grove, met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Alfred Busse. Mrs. Arthur Busse served as co-hostess. Mr. and Mrs. August Behrens, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ichold, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Behrens of Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hoppensteadt, Elmhurst, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Oehlerking of Cicero, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Honamann, Algonquin rd. February 4 to celebrate Mrs. Honamann's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson of Cherokee, Iowa, were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. John Rill, Busse rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Behrens, Algonquin rd., were dinner guests last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Penkava of Chicago, who were celebrating their second wedding anniversary.

Friday evening guests at the Clarence Peterson's home on Oakton st. were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hullison and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leonard and the Edgar Jaffes joined the Foster Becons Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weiler in Des Plaines for an evening of bridge.

These items were omitted from last week's edition:

Mrs. Arthur J. Leonard has returned from Kansas City after spending two weeks with her father, Mr. R. E. Smith who has been hospitalized for several weeks.

Mrs. Louis Schuttner, Oakton st., after spending three weeks at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, returned home last week. Her family and friends are happy to know that her condition is greatly improved.

Your reporter finds it good to be at home again after a 10 day 2500 mile vacation with her husband, driving to New York City, visiting with Mrs. Kevie Jaffe. While there we visited with friends in New Jersey and Connecticut. On our return trip stops were made at Utica, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Cleveland and Toledo renewing old acquaintances. In our absence Mrs. P. L. Spencer, my mother, of Perry, Iowa, stayed with our three children.

H. Conrad Seegers

Funeral services were held Tuesday for H. Conrad Seegers, late of 38 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated. Interment Mt. Prospect cemetery. Oehler's funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Seegers was born November 7, 1867, in Des Plaines. He died at his home February 4. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his children, Alma Mecklenburg, Ida Gaisch, Hulda Winkelman, John, Mabel Buhke, Oscar, Clarence, Ruth Pankonin, Helen Elliott and Rev. Conrad; two brothers, Herman of Des Plaines and William of Mt. Prospect; one sister, Sophie Kruse of Mt. Prospect, 24 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

His wife, Dora, died August 30, 1949, and one daughter, Gertrude Hoeft, also preceded him in death.

Lydia E. Haake

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Lydia E. Haake, 407 S. Ioka ave., Mt. Prospect, at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated. Interment Bethania. Oehler's funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Haake was born January 27, 1896, in Chicago. She died February 4 at the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago.

We could use a lot of space telling you about the sales record we have made and how fast we have sold certain individual properties listed with us. But we don't think you are interested in individual cases unless it is your own! However we would like to present this one fact to your for your consideration. During the past several months we have been selling homes as fast and faster than we have been able to list them. And right today we have a long waiting list of prospective buyers. We can sell almost any desirable home immediately. Find out for yourself before you list your property for sale. "See Us First"

Bashful bachelors booby-trapped by 1950 valentines

Too shy to propose? Stop stalling, you bashful bachelors.

The exuberant new Valentines will practically "pop the fatal question" for you — with gestures!

When one is opened, two cardboard lips leap out on a spring to kiss your startled lady love. Another pops a tiny figure skyward with the notation, "You Hit Me Like Something Atomic!"

Cupid anticipates happy hunting on Tuesday, Feb. 14 — St. Valentine's Day. Publishers estimate that 300,000,000 tender missives will leave the nation dreamy-eyed.

None of the 1950 Valentines enclose engagement rings, as was the practice a century ago. But a bachelor's prized freedom won't last long after he sends a flirtatious verse like—

Wish you'd stop TEASIN' And listen to REASON Because it's more PLEASIN' To get in some SQUEEZIN'.

Shyness hardly characterizes the Valentines young ladies are sending for 1950, either. One pictures a shapely girl in a bathing suit, under the title "If You Want Me For Your Valentine..." Inside is a two-tone metallic whistle, capable of a blast that can be heard for blocks.

Sentimental Valentines this year are strictly Victorian in style, with tiny paper cupids hovering over rose arbors and tender pierced hearts of perfumed red satin.

Public Service asks gas heat for 7,500

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois today asked the Illinois commerce commission for permission to offer gas heat to 7,500 more single family dwellings in suburbs and other northern Illinois communities served by the company.

Installation by the utility of additional gas storage capacity to help meet peak loads makes this possible, Britton I. Budd, Public Service president, said.

More than 36,000 unfilled requests for gas heat were on file with the company as of December 31, 1949. The 7,500 new installations will go to those at the top of this waiting list, Budd said.

The commission has restricted the number of gas heat users since July, 1946 to protect the general gas supply. Since then gas heat installations have been added only with commission approval as additional gas or storage facilities became available.

During this three and one-half year period, Public Service has been able to add 23,000 gas heating customers. Budd estimated that the 7,500 to be authorized would take care of all requests up to about April 1, 1949.

Those who receive authority to use gas in their furnaces are expected to have their installations made before the beginning of the 1950-51 heating season next fall. The company plans to notify eligible customers as soon as possible following receipt of commission approval.

Ship two carloads to relieve coal shortage in Libertyville

Relief from a coal shortage in Libertyville was assured the Village board last week. John J. Jaeger, board president, reported that the state director of mines and minerals, had assured him the "shortage" in the area had been designated an emergency and that two carloads of stoker coal had been shipped to a Libertyville dealer.

The trustees, when advised there would be little or no coal in dealers' yards after Jan. 27, took action. The situation was explained in resolutions sent to President Truman, Illinois U.S. senators and congressmen, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Jaeger stated the state mine head told him that when there are emergencies coal will be shipped to the village. When dealers buy from out-of-state mines, the state department has no jurisdiction. However, when purchases are made in Illinois, sufficient coal to prevent hardships will be supplied.

TALES of the STREET

● A SKID ROW STORY

They said "skid row" had changed. There has been lots of talk about Chicago's west Madison street in the last year, newspaper articles, magazine articles, action by Chicago's police department, the board of health, building inspectors and various other organizations looking toward the uplift of "skid row."

Long years ago we used to be well acquainted with that district. As a labor agent for a large employers association we had hired hundreds of men out of the labor agencies, flop houses, cheap hotels and joints of the row.

Later we found the district a fertile field for human interest stories. So after over forty years we decided to take another look at the row.

It hadn't changed much; there were still the same sort of drink, emporiums, cheap eating joints, hotels and flop houses as in the past and the same sort of wanderers and derelicts as in the past, and the same strata of those on a little higher plane, that for some unknown reason or another made skid row their home.

We were sitting in the lobby of a cheap hotel, contrasting the scene and the characters of the present with those of the long ago when we noticed a young fellow eyeing us intently. He looked rather unkempt and wild-eyed and acted like he had partaken a little too freely of some of the alcoholic refreshment of the district. Yet there was an intentness and longing about him that said almost as plain as words that this boy wanted to talk.

Slowly he moved over and took a seat beside us. "Mister," he said, "can I talk to you? I've just got to talk to someone," and there was a pleading note in his voice that showed that he meant it.

"Fire ahead," we told him, "what do you want to talk about?" "Me," he replied, "I've just got to tell someone my story. You don't belong on this street. I can tell that and before I talk I'd like to ask a few questions." "Go ahead," we told him, "what do you want to know?"

"Mister," he said, "you're not a police officer are you?" "No," we assured him. "Nor an FBI agent?" he continued. "No," again we answered. "You don't happen to be a judge or anyone connected with the courts?" he persisted and we assured him that our only connection with any law enforcement agencies was a speaking acquaintance with some members of the various groups he had mentioned.

"Adjustable" tees are the latest gaudy gadget. Made with four legs of varying height (any three of which form the base, the fourth serving as the tee), they make it easy to "tee up" on either rain-soaked or sun-baked ground.

"I think it is very easy to see what Van Gogh conveys in his drawings and paintings. One learns that he was an extremely lonely man; that he had a dual personality—one side religious, affectionate, humble and the other side, tyrannical, unpredictable and egotistical. That he had an exquisite sense of beauty, and that, indeed, he was a genius."

There is a marked difference in his early work from that of the latter period in his life. In his earlier works the influence of other painters is easily discerned. There is a Rembrandt quality to what young Edward laughingly calls "his potato period." He was living among the peasants and coal miners at this time, and he drew and painted these people in the potato fields and at their tables eating potatoes. There is a still-life of potatoes in this present exhibit, which, to my mind, has the hardness and quality of coal.

Van Gogh was too poor to pay for models, so went among the destitute and desolate, where he obtained some of the magnificent character studies we see in this exhibit. This lack of funds also explains why there are so many self-portraits.

When he went to Arles, principally for his health, he went with the assurance of a regular allowance from his beloved brother, Theodore, who incidentally, was the only one who recognized his genius during his life. In the country his paintings took on great color and brilliance. He was out in the sun every day. He painted many different species of trees, flowers, and fields of wheat and other grain. One is impressed with the intensity and speed with which he, but they 'put me away.' He escaped and made his way to an uncle in Florida where he was treated well, but his parents found out where he was and had him returned to the institution.

Again he escaped and this time went to an uncle in California. Again his parents located him and had him returned to the institution, and again he escaped and came to Chicago.

"I'd heard of skid row in the army," he said, "of a street where a man could lose himself forever, the street of forgotten men and I came here. I never want to see or hear from my parents again. They don't want me and I never want to hear a word about them again," and there was a note of bitter pathos in his voice as he said it.

"How did you ever get into the army?" we asked him, and he replied, "I lied my way in. I got past the medical examiners. I was in the army over a year when I began to have my spells again and they gave me a medical discharge," and he produced his papers to prove it. "But I'll go back and start at the beginning," he said.

"During the CCC camp days, I was in a CCC camp up in Montana. It was wonderful there, the fine clean air, the big trees, the stillness, the healthy outdoor life. It was wonderful and I felt fine."

"I wrote to a girlfriend of mine back home, telling her all about it. We were just good friends. I knew I couldn't marry in my condition, but she had always been nice to me, had understood me."

"She was so happy to get my letter and know I was getting along so fine, and how nice I described the country and the life up there, that she showed the letter to my sister and she told my parents."

"And then what do you suppose happened?" I got a letter from my folks ordering me never to write to that girl again and saying if I did 'they'd put me away.'"

"After that I just went to pieces. I started drinking and when I drink the spells come more often and get worse. I shouldn't drink."

"I finally straightened up and when the war started, I lied my way into the army. I loved army life and it agreed with me. I was stationed on the west coast and I think went O.K. until some of the boys started coming back from the South Pacific and telling of the action over there."

"There was a lot of celebrating and drinking when some of the boys would get back and I celebrated with them too much and my spells came on and I was discharged from the army."

"I went back home and the first thing I knew I was 'put away' in that place; I didn't like it and I schemed to get away."

"As I said I'd heard of 'skid row' in Chicago and I came here and I've been treated better here on skid row than my

THE FENCE POST

RAILROAD COSTS

My attention has been called to the letter which appeared in your good newspaper of January 27th under the heading Railroad Fares signed "Mr. Bob, Palatine." I have had this on my desk for several days considering whether or not the letter justified a reply because, manifestly, the writer, notwithstanding the fact that many of the points to which he makes reference are a matter of public record in the Courts to which we have had to resort on all previous applications for increases, has not seen fit to check his facts which were easily available to him.

I do not propose to deal with all phases of his letter but I do want to refer to that part of it wherein he states "Income from suburban tickets represents only a part of their revenue." This I concede. As a matter of fact, the record will show that income from advertising in the coaches is credited entirely to suburban revenue. Income from freight is not credited to suburban revenue, naturally, but the expenses of maintaining that part of the facilities used by both freight and passengers properly chargeable to freight revenues are so charged.

He suggested that we check with Comfort and Tibbitts in Palatine to see what they paid in freight and demurrage last year. The freight and demurrage charges which Comfort and Tibbitts paid were for their proportion of the facilities used in transporting their traffic, the same as suburban business is charged with facilities used in transporting commuters. I am sure Comfort and Tibbitts would not contend that they are being undercharged on their freight business.

The use made of common facilities for handling express business is charged to that particular service and not commutation service. The commutation service is given a very liberal cut in the rentals from the concessions in the station. As a matter of fact, our records show that the commuters contribute very little to the revenue from these concessions in view of the fact that most of it accrues from the restaurants where very few of the commuters eat. They do buy quite a few newspapers but this is only a very small percentage of the total.

In summing up this phase of the letter, I want to say that "Mr. Bob" might be surprised to know that as a result of the credit from the concessions to commuter revenue, the expense of operating commutation trains is not charged with a single penny of the operating expense of our Madison Street Terminal.

In closing this letter, I also want to refer to the statement about the 74 unused rides which the writer alleges he found on the window of the Palatine station. Is it not natural to assume that if the patrons have unused rides they would buy smaller multiple ride tickets? Perhaps the writer does not know that we have 25-ride tickets that are good for one year. While the ride cost of these tickets is in excess of the monthly tickets on a per ride basis, the commuter has the option of buying the type of ticket which is the cheapest for him.

R. L. Williams, President

HONEST PEOPLE?

Are the people of Palatine more dishonest than the people of Chicago? A reporter for a large Chicago newspaper has tried, for the past week, to lose a purse containing five dollars. Her difficulty in finding a dishonest Chicagoan has been front-page news.

Monday night, after alighting from the 6:13 train at Brockway st., I dropped my wallet, containing not five, but eighty-five dollars. (my salary, incidentally). This afternoon I found the wallet in my mail-box. It had been returned, too, empty.

Broke, Palatine

THANK YOU

As the year 1950 begins, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to you and your entire staff for the valuable services you have rendered The Salvation Army during the past twelve months.

We have been able to do a better job in the greater Chicago area to bring happiness and new hope to more of the unfortunate—because the Arlington Heights Herald, Palatine Enterprise and Mt. Prospect Herald reported our activities so colorfully and helped the public to a broader understanding of the spirit and purpose of The Salvation Army.

The Army needs good friends. We sincerely trust that in the days ahead we may so conduct our work that we will continue to merit your interest and support.

HANDS OFF VA

The veteran is no different from the average American in hating government red tape and run-around. Only he hates with more intensity. He has had his share of gruff top sergeants and officious second looses. He resolved to be done forever with bureaucratic autocracy when he kissed compulsion saluting goodbye. His idea of civilian life is no more lining up for anything and no more pushing around by anybody.

World War II veterans have fared better than those of World War I. The lining up and the run-around ended for them when they shed their uniform. They have a one-stop service agency for their needs as veterans in the present Veterans Administration.

But the veterans of World War I were not so fortunate. Back in 1919 and 1920 there was a labyrinth of government agencies going through the motion of trying to serve them. For his various hard-earned rights, the veteran of the first World War was pushed around from the Pension Bureau to the Vocational Education and back again.

It was a well-greased shuttle. The veteran skidded from the door of one bureaucrat to that of another. He got a lot of experience and more wear and tear. But he got precious little relief. For the sick or disabled veteran it was a round of continued despair and frustration—and there were only 4,000,000 veterans in those days.

Legion brought order

Correction of this bungled handling of veteran affairs was the first big undertaking of The American Legion in its early cradle days. It went to Washington to present the evidence of the mismanagement of veteran affairs. It presented photographic proof of how men wounded in battle were lodged in poorhouses, asylums and even jails because there were no hospital beds while government agencies were wrangling over which bureau was top dog in handling veteran affairs.

President Harding was shocked. He named a committee of 10 prominent Americans headed by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes as chairman, to study the deplorable situation. The American Legion was the chief witness before this committee. The Dawes Committee recommended that all services to veterans be consolidated in one agency. Out of that recommendation grew the Veterans Bureau, established by law, late in 1921.

In 1929 President Herbert Hoover himself, recommended a further improvement. The President declared that in the interest of efficiency, economy and more uniform administration the Pension Bureau and the National Home for Volunteer Soldiers should also be amalgamated with the Veterans Bureau. Thus was created the Veterans Administration, a streamlined agency dealing exclusively with all veteran affairs.

Today the VA is a one-stop service station for 19,000,000 veterans. It handles all their needs in disability and death compensation, disability and death pensions, medical and hospital services, domiciliary care, government life insurance, vocational training and education, guaranty of loans for homes, farms or business, and unemployment allowances without any run-around.

Under the watchful eye of The American Legion, the VA has been developed and so operated that, in spite of some existing imperfections, it stands alone today among all large governmental agencies as the one NOT subject to political pressure and free from pork barrel raids.

To dismember the VA as proposed by the Hoover Plan into five separate experimental bureaus would bring chaos again in the handling of veteran affairs and result in waste. So The American Legion is firm in its stand "HANDS OFF THE VA."

PLENTY SOLD

I have been dilatory in writing you concerning two classified ads I had in your paper shortly after Christmas.

I thought you would be interested in knowing all of the articles advertised were sold promptly. In fact there were so many inquiries that likely I could have sold at least ten times as much had we had that much for sale. Your newspaper did an excellent job for which please accept my thanks.

SAVINGS BONDS

Your splendid cooperation, Mr. Paddock, was instrumental in keeping Illinois among the leading states in the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds during 1949. I wish to convey the thanks and appreciation of the U. S. Treasury Department Savings Bonds Division for Illinois for the continued support of your newspaper.

Illinois people are responsible for a total of $379,315,660 in "E" Bond sales during 1949, or 9.02% of the national "E" Bond sales during the year.

HEART FUNDS

During the month of February, the Chicago Heart Association will conduct its annual campaign for funds to finance a concerted attack on the problems of heart disease.

The reality of this problem is illustrated dramatically by the fact that in a typical year, more than 18,000 persons in the Chicago area die of diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Estimates place the number of heart disease victims suffering more or less disability, in metropolitan Chicago, at 250,000.

More frightening than these figures is the fact that heart disease can strike anyone at any time. It is the leading cause of death in the U. S. today. But there is hope for hearts. Medical authorities are in agreement that progress can be made in the battle against cardiovascular disorders provided continuity of research can be insured. Continuity of research, effective programs of education, and expanded community service are the tasks which the Chicago Heart Association has set for itself, and for which it is estimated $1,000,000 will be required during the coming year.

This campaign serves Cook, DuPage and the southern half of Lake counties. I think you will be interested to know that 70 per cent of the monies raised in the Chicago drive will be used locally.

Daniel J. Edelman
Director, Public Relations, Chicago

BOY SCOUTS

Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, marking the 40th anniversary of the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America, will find the organization at its all time high in active membership. Indications are that our Dec. 31st membership figures will show nearly 2,500,000 boys and adult leaders enrolled in the Movement. Since 1910, more than 16,500,000 American boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting is strong in those communities where civic-minded individuals and institutions not only show an interest in the youth of the community but do something about it with effective support from the press. We invite your assistance in furthering Scouting in your area. We enclose several suggested editorials and stories and a mat of this year's Boy Scout Week poster. The Local Council of the Boy Scouts of America will furnish news stories of the local observance.

The Boy Scouts will hold their second National Jamboree at historic Valley Forge, Pa., where 40,000 will camp together from June 30 to July 6. The Local Council can tell you of its preliminary plans to take part in this great event.

IS PICKETING NECESSARY

Being a newcomer in Arlington Heights I am sort of shy about raising my voice, but if what I hear about the contemplated Besinger development is so, I think it is high time that we change the Arlington Heights building code and zoning ordinances.

Any time one man can come into a beautiful suburban town like Arlington Heights and change the whole complexion of the town for personal profit, something is definitely wrong with our laws (and the officials that enforce them.) If Besinger can build almost 100 houses that look, as the Mayor said, "like ice houses," in one area, he can do it in any other part of town and it won't take long for Arlington Heights to lose the pleasant homelike suburban atmosphere we now enjoy.

Don't you believe that we, as citizens, should use every moral pressure possible, and if our lawmakers insist upon not doing anything about it, don't you believe we should resort to "picketing" type action that will stop people from buying these monstrosities? This is an issue far beyond just Scarsdale because it can and will happen in any part of Arlington if we don't stop this initial attempt.

As editor of the newspaper you can contribute more than any other one person towards stopping the building of "row houses" in Arlington Heights.

SCHOOL COSTS

The item in last week's Fence Post stating that my figures on the new addition to School Dist. 59 were incorrect, is not true. I went over both lists of figures and found only $150 difference. I was not protesting the spending, but the way you had the items listed in the dedication program was misleading.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

To the Art Institute last week for the opening of the Van Gogh exhibit.

Numbers three and four sons had a free day from school so we boarded a "stream-liner" at 9:43 Thursday morning and by 11:30 we were carrying our trays down the line in the cafeteria in the basement of the Art Institute.

The boys like to lunch there. The food is excellent (thanks to that very nice and very efficient Mary Ann Ludlow) and the service fast. It's convenient, too, knowing that after the meal, over one has but a few steps to climb to arrive at quite a different kind of feast—a feast for the soul that the Institute daily provides in its many galleries.

When I purchased the catalogue covering the present Van Gogh show, memory recalled an other time when our older boys accompanied me to see the work of this Dutch artist. It was in the summer of 1933, during the first Century of Progress. At that exhibit there were less than fifteen paintings of Van Gogh's, but the multitudes overflowed the gallery (which he shared with Lautrec.) As I am certain they will again. Now I believe there is something like 95 paintings and 68 drawings spread over ten galleries.

I have the feeling that of all the modernists, Van Gogh should be the most understandable to the average lay person. Perhaps, it isn't necessary, as Picasso says, for the people to know what the artist was thinking when he put his "thoughts" down on canvas, but just the same, the majority of people want to try to understand what the artist has attempted to say.

I think it is very easy to see what Van Gogh conveys in his drawings and paintings. One learns that he was an extremely lonely man; that he had a dual personality—one side religious, affectionate, humble and the other side, tyrannical, unpredictable and egotistical. That he had an exquisite sense of beauty, and that, indeed, he was a genius.

There is a marked difference in his early work from that of the latter period in his life. In his earlier works the influence of other painters is easily discerned. There is a Rembrandt quality to what young Edward laughingly calls "his potato period." He was living among the peasants and coal miners at this time, and he drew and painted these people in the potato fields and at their tables eating potatoes. There is a still-life of potatoes in this present exhibit, which, to my mind, has the hardness and quality of coal.

Van Gogh was too poor to pay for models, so went among the destitute and desolate, where he obtained some of the magnificent character studies we see in this exhibit. This lack of funds also explains why there are so many self-portraits.

When he went to Arles, principally for his health, he went with the assurance of a regular allowance from his beloved brother, Theodore, who incidentally, was the only one who recognized his genius during his life. In the country his paintings took on great color and brilliance. He was out in the sun every day. He painted many different species of trees, flowers, and fields of wheat and other grain. One is impressed with the intensity and speed with which he painted. As if he had a premonition that his life was to be of short duration.

Repeated attacks of violence necessitated periods spent in the hospital but as soon as convalescence began he resumed his work at the easel. His genius seemed not to suffer. In fact, it persisted to the end, growing instead of declining.

In the last period of his life spent at Auvers with his brother, sister-in-law and nephew, his work became more definitely stylized. His brush stroke was shorter, wider, and the paint thicker. There was more and more movement in the canvases. One notices this in the cypress trees, and the fields seem to be moving like waves. The mood is always sad.

He began to dwell on repeated thoughts of his financial burden on his brother, and of the possibility of other attacks of insanity. His loneliness was overpowering. Finally the struggle became too great for him to bear. On the 7th of July, 1890, at the age of 37, he went out to the fields he had loved to paint, and alone, shot himself. His death occurred the next day. He was buried in the little cemetery nearby. His faithful brother Theodore followed him in death but six months later.

It is to Theodore's wife great credit goes for bringing the vast collection of his drawings and paintings to the public. It was she who arranged the first showing of his art. It is estimated that during the short period of less than ten years, this famous Dutch painter gave the world some 800 paintings and 900 drawings.

With love, Mary.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it now considered proper for one to light one's own cigarette before that of a companion, so as to avoid the taste of sulphur in that person's cigarette?

A. No; this taste is in evidence only during the first flaring of the match. Light your match, and if you wish, wait just a second before applying it to your friend's cigarette — then light your own.

Q. If a woman is wearing a corsage pinned on her coat when entering a restaurant, what does she do with it?

A. She takes it off and pins it on her dress where it will show off to much better advantage.

Q. Is it proper to have ushers, when having no bridesmaids, at a church wedding where about 100 guests are expected?

A. This is not only proper, but necessary.

Q. How does a young married woman introduce her mother to another person?

A. She must be sure to give her mother's name, saying, "This is my mother, Mrs. Jones," so that the other person will know what to call her in speaking to her.

Q. What refreshments should be served at a reception that follows the christening of a child?

A. The menu is the usual one for an afternoon informal tea, with refreshments served in buffet style.

Q. Is a girl ever privileged to announce her own engagement?

A. Only to her family and close friends. Public announcement is made by her parents or closest relatives.

Q. Should a birthday greeting card received from a friend who lives at a distance be acknowledged in any way?

A. Most certainly. Thank the friend for remembering your birthday in a note, written promptly.

Q. Is it considered improper for a bridegroom to see his bride on the wedding day before the ceremony?

A. There is nothing improper about it. There is merely an old superstition that this is bad luck.

Q. When giving a formal dinner, should the carving be done at the table?

A. No; it should be done in the kitchen. At an informal dinner, the carving may be done at the table.

Q. May a young man invite a young girl to a week-end party in his home?

A. The invitation to a young

Tales of the street

parents ever treated me. The police officers are a grand lot. I've had spells and have been picked up a lot of times and came to in a police station, but every cent in my pockets and all my papers were always kept for me and given back to me when I was in shape to leave.

"Some of the fellows cuss the coppers, but to me they have been a grand lot of fellows."

"The first time I was picked up I had to go before a judge and I told him the truth about my escapes and all. He called up that institution and they told him, 'We don't want him back, he just won't stay here — you can have him,' and the judge turned me loose."

"I got acquainted with one of the labor agents and he was nice to me, got me odd jobs and lent me money to live on and I always paid him back."

"I'm working now on a job he got me. I'm working in the kitchen of a restaurant in a little town near Chicago. I get $40.00 a week and board and room and the boss treats me fine. It's a good job for me."

"And just what are you doing here if you're working," he asked him. "It's my time off," he replied. "I got off at noon yesterday and don't have to get back until late tonight."

"Then he added, 'Every once in a while I get that awful urge to drink, not with a gang but by myself.' He patted a bundle under his arm. 'I've got two quarts of wine here,' he said, 'or I did have — half a quart is gone. I've got to kill the rest of it and get back on the job.'"

"Why not ditch the rest of it, straighten up and get back to the country?" we asked him. "There's a train every hour from now until late in the evening."

"I'm too jittery to quit now," was the answer. "I've got to finish it, then probably have a spell, get picked up by the coppers, straightened out and get back to work."

"The lad showed a love of big engines and machinery and said he'd love to work around engines but he added, 'A fellow has to be stone sober and have good nerves to do that, none of these spells like I have around those big fellows.'"

We talked some more about his straightening up and getting back to his job. "I know," he said. "I've got to fight. I've got to fight myself, it's me, alone that can win the battle," and he shook his fist and repeated, "Yes, I've got to fight, fight myself, fight myself and win if I can."

"Can we do anything to help you?" we asked, and he replied promptly, "You've done a lot already, you let me talk to you. You are the first fellow since I came in this time who is not a 'skid row' that would talk to me. The others all ran as if I had the smallpox. No, you've done a lot. I feel a thousand times better since I've told you my story, the rest is up to me. I've got to fight."

As I got up to leave he gripped my hand and tears came to his eyes. "Thanks a lot, fellows," he said, "if my folks could have ever understood me I wouldn't be here. They have plenty of money but they put me away. You and that girl back home, the labor agent, and the skid row coppers are the only ones who understand me and my mix ups."

We shook hands and parted. He was still whispering to himself, "Fight, I've got to fight myself and win."

And from that day we have wondered — did he win the fight and get back to his $40 a week job or did skid row claim another victim for its own?

Has "skid row" changed since the time we knew the district way back over forty years ago? Not a whole lot, things are pretty much the same. There are more women on the row now and a lot of young fellows, in the old days it was strictly a man's haven, older men.

The advent of the women wanderers hasn't improved the street any, the feminine influence that is supposed to be all for the good is all for the bad on skid row.

Maybe the joints are a little cleaner than they used to be. Maybe health standards have gone up a fraction, but there are still the same class of joints, the same bad whiskey, the same cheap food, only at a higher price, and the same general class of habits of the district with women and young fellows added.

If anything, the district seemed to us to be more bawdy, brazen and blatant than in the old days.

Will there always be a "skid row"? Just as long as there are human conflicts, business and marital failures, friendliness and homelessness, despair and complete loss of hope, broken homes and misunderstandings.

Words Often Misused

Use likely when referring to a contingent event regarded as probable; as, "It is likely to rain tonight." Use liable when referring to a possible event regarded as disastrous; as, "You are liable to fall if you are not careful."

Do not say, "I am anxious to read that book." "I am eager to read that book" is preferable.

Do not say, "I am very partial to chocolate cake." "I am very fond of chocolate cake" is preferable.

Do not write, "This is our's." No apostrophe is required in writing the possessive pronouns, ours, yours, theirs, its.

Do not say, "He should be called down for his impudence." Called down is a colloquialism. It is better to say, "He should be reproved for his impudence."

Words Often Mispronounced

Column. Pronounce kol-um, not kol-yum as sometimes heard.

Contralto. Pronounce the a as in at, not as in all, and accent second syllable.

Mortgage. Pronounce mor-gij; the t is silent.

Attache. Pronounce at-a-sha, first a as in at, second a unstressed, third a as in shay, secondary accent on first syllable, principal accent on last syllable.

Anathema. Pronounce a-nath-e-ma, first a unstressed, second a as in nap, e as in me unstressed, accent on second syllable.

Ephemeral (short-lived). Pronounce e-fem-er-al, all e's as in set, accent on second syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Breath (noun); breathe (verb). Weir, ei. Weild, ie. Symmetry; two m's. Supersede; observe the second s, not cede. Hawaiian; observe the three a's and the two i's.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Arrogant; unduly proud; overbearing; haughty. "Praise has different effects . . . it makes a wise man modest, but a fool more arrogant." — Feltham.

Salutary; promoting health; curative. "Exercise, when not too strenuous, is salutary."

Gregarious; having the habit of associating in flocks, herds, or companies. (Pronounce the e as in me, a as in care, accent second syllable). "Man is a gregarious creature, often preferring the crowded city to the open country."

Imputation; whatever is ascribed or charged. "It is the summit of humility to bear the

The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington.

These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision.

Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed.

A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Three Little Sisters

Proud parents of this gay threesome are Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Kuhlman of 716 N. Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights. The Kuhlman family and their three girls moved into their new home in the Eastwood subdivision two years ago.

Pictured first is "big sister" Kathie. She has dark brown eyes and hair and will celebrate her seventh birthday this Saturday. A party has been planned and several of her school friends have been invited. She is a first grader at the North school.

This youngster has many interests. Drawing and piano lessons are two of the most important ones, but best of all is playtime, after school, spent with her sisters who patiently wait for her arrival.

In contrast to Kathie's dark hair and eyes is the blond hair and blue eyes of Janet and Peggy.

Janet, the youngest, who will be three in May, is next in line. Although the "baby" of the family, she is right in the middle of things and doesn't miss out on any of the fun.

The big smile and perky hair ribbon belong to 4½ year old Peggy, "middle sis." Attending Sunday school at St. John's Evangelical church is thoroughly enjoyed by Janet and Peggy who are in the beginners' class.

When school is over, Kathie joins her younger sisters and the fun begins. They like to play together, and also with the many new neighbor children in that area. The playhouse in the back yard is a favorite with these three who can be found playing there anytime of the year. If you peek in sometime you may find them singing, playing with their dolls, reading picture books or "playing school."

Gardening is a hobby enjoyed by all the girls. "They are looking forward to their gardens again this summer," said Mrs. Kuhlman. "Last year they raised flowers and vegetables," she added.

Whenever anything exciting happens to these youngsters they run in and "tell Grandma all about it." Mrs. M. Pingel, their maternal grandmother, lives with them and has listened to many happy experiences of her active young granddaughters.

Highlights of the convention: Practitioners of veterinary and human medicine need to cooperate closely, as fully seventy-five diseases originating in man or animal are intercommunicable; there is wide use for the new antihistamine drugs in treating animals; survival of the livestock and poultry industries in the United States depends on success in diagnosing many diseases and holding them in check; Newcastle disease is increasing as a serious threat to poultry throughout Illinois; both rabies and brucellosis can be wiped out by proper control methods but meanwhile cost the country millions of dollars annually in economic and public health losses; animal erysipelas, communicable to humans, is on the rise.

Veterinarians hold confab in Peoria

Record-breaking attendance marked the sixty-eighth annual convention of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association last week in Peoria. Of the 515 members, 364 were present in addition to 156 members of the women's auxiliary.

Participating from Arlington Heights was Dr. L. L. Linn.

Anti-trust lawyers use charges court rejected as false, A&P contends

Inflammatory and damaging allegations made in a suit against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company at Dallas, Tex., were so baseless that the federal judge "threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court," the company will say in advertisement this week end.

The advertisement, scheduled for publication in 2,500 newspapers throughout the nation, was the third in a series discussing former court cases where federal judges found there was no evidence against the company and administered stinging rebukes to the anti-trust lawyers.

In the Dallas anti-trust suit, the ad states, the anti-trust lawyers "made practically the same allegations they are making today" in their current suit to break up the 90-year-old food store chain.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, the ad states, ruled that the Dallas case "should not even be tried" because the indictment "contained inflammatory statements he would not allow to be presented to a jury."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning," the ad quotes Judge Atwell.

"God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell, the ad also says, told the anti-trust lawyers: "If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

Captioned "The Third Time the Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong," the advertisement reviews two other actions — the Washington, D. C. bread case and the Wilson, N. C. potato case—in which federal judges found no evidence to support

TAX FACTS

By George M. Mahla, Executive Director
Chicago Federation of Laborers

The Veterans' Administration takes five times as long to pay death claims as private insurance companies do. This works a hardship on the survivors of veterans. The VA uses four times as much manpower per policy as do private companies. This works a hardship on the taxpayers (and who isn't, including veterans).

Government hospitals are less than 60% occupied, yet hundreds of millions of dollars are being spent for new government hospitals which will put a grave strain on the nation's short supply of physicians and nurses.

The Hoover Commission's recommendations regarding the administration of veterans' affairs were based on findings such as the above examples by Task Forces made up mainly of veterans themselves. Colonel Franklin D'Olier, former National Commander of the American Legion, was Chairman and Director of the survey of veterans' insurance for the Hoover Commission. Thomas Seales, a World War I veteran, was director of the survey on matters other than insurance. Colonel Tracy S. Voorhees, a World War II veteran, was chairman of the group studying medical activities. And the survey team studying Federal personnel management was Cresap, McCormick & Paget composed 100% of World War II veterans.

At no place in the Commission's Report were there any recommendations for the curtailment of medical benefits or other services to veterans. The Commission stated that such policy decisions were outside its province. Its recommendations covered only the better management of existing programs as already determined by Congress.

Major General Paul R. Hawley, former Chief Medical Director of the Veterans' Administration, former Chief Surgeon of the European Theater of Operations and a member of the Hoover Commission Task Force on Medical Services—a man obviously qualified to speak with authority—said at the National Reorganization Conference in Washington December 13, 1949:

"Even today we are paying a price in quality of medical care in federal services through the effort to staff more hospitals than there are medical specialists available. The dispersion of federal patients among numerous half-filled hospitals not only requires many more specialists but also too frequently results in a loss of continuity of their treatment. Efficiency would be increased through better employment of the limited number of medical specialists; and through economies effected through fuller utilization of existing hospital plant."

"Several efforts have been made to include the medical service of the Veterans' Administration in this joint supply procurement program (along with the army, navy and air force), but none has succeeded solely because of the traditional reluctance of a Government department to relinquish any of its prerogatives. To do so would be to reduce the number of its own employees, which is unthinkable."

The issue appears to be clear-cut: better management. Are the veterans to get better service on

Story of immigrants told in 'The Sidewalks Are Free'

What sort of life do Russian Jewish immigrants find when they come to the United States? Are their dreams realized, are they absorbed into the consciousness of our country, or do they remain a group apart?

Sam Ross, in a sympathetic novel The Sidewalks Are Free, relates the story of a family transplanted from the Ukraine. In this novel of immigrants, filled with rich details of a foreign culture, he has answered many of our curious questions of "why" and "how" and still portrays a family whose problem is a universal one, a boy whose approaching adolescence poses difficulties all boys face.

their insurance, on their loans and other benefits, and better medical service? Are the taxpayers, including veterans, to get a break through elimination of inefficiency, duplication of services, unnecessary building? Better management alone is the issue as found by eminent and respected fact-finders who were veterans themselves. The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is 100% on the side of better management of public business. The burden of proof is on the American Legion to show conclusively that the fact-finders for the Hoover Commission were wrong, that their own past National Commander and the former Chief Medical Director of the Veterans' Administration, among other veterans, were wrong, that the veterans will in fact get poorer or more restricted service, that the issue is not in fact better management alone.

David Melov brought his family to Chicago's Northwest side, supporting them by his work as a skilled cabinetmaker. The action begins when Uncle Yussel, killed in the first World War, leaves David his GI insurance policy. Ten thousand dollars is such an immense sum that it completely changes the Melovs' life.

Sonya, the wife, dreams of riches, a business of their own. Her husband, deeply sensitive to emotional undercurrents, is bruised and made insecure by the wrangling between the parents. Sonya constantly nags David to do what seems impossible to him, for he is that rare person—a man contented with his life.

He speaks for the man, prodded to be a Success, who loves his life for what it is. "Measure a man by the work he does, the love he has for his family, his not hurting people, his respect for people, his being content with what he has, not by his ambitions, his cruelty, the rock in his heart." David cries to Sonya. "Can't a man be a success without gaining an empire? What more is expected of a human being than just being a human being? What more?"

"Happy Hunting Ground" Thinking that the Indian enjoyed hunting, white men gave the name "happy hunting ground" to the place where Indians go after death. Actually, the Indian considered hunting hard work, and his real idea of heaven was comparable to a white man's—a place to sing, eat, dance and enjoy life.

New circular available on ladino clover

Farm Adviser Hughes announces a new publication on Ladino clover, Circular 650, that should mean extra dollars in the pockets of many Cook County farmers.

You may use Ladino clover for hay, pasture, seed, silage, or green manure in orchards, the adviser explained. It has a high carrying capacity when pastured, and livestock and poultry like it. It's a good source of vitamin A and calcium and, best of all, it runs from 20 to 24 percent protein from June to mid-September. That's unusually high, especially for the hot summer months.

Ladino is adapted to all parts of Illinois. Successful stands have been established without difficulty all over the state. It grows best on fertile, moist soils that are sweet and have a good supply of available phosphorus and potash.

AS FOR YIELDS on pasture, R. F. Fuelleman, pasture specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture, and author of the circular, gives these figures:

With one cutting, a Ladino-grass mixture produced 3,900 to 5,900 pounds of dry hay to the acre on test plots in Madison, Boone, Henry, Pope, Stephenson and JoDaviess Counties in 1947 and 1948.

With two cuttings, yields ranged from 2,600 to 7,500 pounds of dry hay to the acre for the same counties and same years.

It's essential to seed Ladino in a firm, moderately smooth seedbed, the adviser declared. The time to seed is March or April. One of the surest ways to get a stand is to roll the field with a corrugated roller, then seed, and roll a second time to cover the seed.

You can get recommended seeding mixtures, rates of seeding and management practices from Circular 650. The farm adviser has a free copy.

Farm income likely to drop slightly in 1950

An economist in the Illinois College of Agriculture predicted that Illinois farmers' net income and buying power will probably drop off slightly in 1950.

L. H. Simerl, extension outlook forecaster, expects farmers to have about as much to sell as they had in 1949, but the average prices they receive will be lower. And he thinks over-all farm costs and family living expenses will be down very little.

On the supply side, farmers are set to produce at high levels this year. Acreage restrictions on a few crops will be a hindrance, but experience shows they do not reduce total production very much. Except for a severe drought, total farm output in 1950 will be about the same as during the past two years.

On the demand side, Simerl believes consumers will be able and willing to buy about the same amounts of farm products as they did last year. Industrial employment and wage rates will

Excessive Moisture in Barns Can Be Removed by Ventilation System

By IRA MILLER

Farm Electrification Bureau

It has been said that cows produce enough heat in an average size closed barn to warm a fairly large farm home. And that the air exhaled by the herd contains enough moisture to irrigate a garden—quite possible when we realize that moisture is breathed into the air at a rate of from 5 to 8 quarts per cow per day.

Shown above is one of the more widely used types of dairy barn ventilation equipment installed next to the milker vacuum pump.

But don't try to prove it. It's enough just to know that such conditions exist so that something can be done about them—particularly in the winter when natural ventilation often is inadequate.

The problem, during cold months, is to retain a majority of the heat generated by the cattle and to get rid of the excessive moisture. For too much moisture results in the decay of barn timbers, corrosion of metal and the spoilage of hay.

Fortunately, the performance of this double chore is not too difficult. It can be done effectively through the use of a good ventilation system. Such a system not only will protect the barn, wiring and paint, but also will help maintain milk production at high levels, eliminate drafts, assure better working conditions, and provide a healthy atmosphere for the stock.

To do the job right, ventilation systems should provide each 1,000-pound cow with six changes of air per hour. Electric fans, used for this purpose, generally are rated at from 1/10 to 1/2 horsepower, depending on the size of the barn and herd. More than one fan usually is used in large buildings. Air is drawn out of the stable from a point or points near the floor. Where used, intakes are provided around the barn to deliver air upward against the ceiling without draft. Fans can operate continuously throughout the winter or be controlled by thermostats and speed reducers in very cold weather.

In addition to winter use, ventilation systems are also being employed to expel hot air in the summer. In these instances, however, larger fans and motors are used than those generally recommended for winter use only.

Ventilation systems operate best when structures are well insulated. Installations can be made easily and at reasonable cost. Electricity used amounts to approximately two kilowatt hours of power per cow per month.

LAW on the FARM

Farm mortgages

Legally speaking, a farm mortgage is a "deed with a defeasance clause." This means that it is a deed given for a specific restricted purpose and that, as soon as that purpose is served, the deed is no longer effective. The purpose of a mortgage is to give security to one who loans money. The loan is evidenced by written instruments, usually notes, and the mortgage deed is given from the borrower to the lender, binding the borrower's land to answer for the debt. Usually mortgages are given to secure loans made for purchasing or improving the mortgaged property, but this need not be the case.

When a mortgage has been given, the mortgagee (lender) holds legal title to the property and the mortgagor (borrower) retains the equitable title or equitable interest. The difference in value between the property itself and the amount of the loan is spoken of as the owner's or borrower's "equity" in the property; if his farm is worth $250 an acre and he borrows $150 an acre, his "equity" is $100 per acre. Mortgages must be recorded in order to be effective against innocent third parties; and when the loan secured by a mortgage deed is paid, a release must also be recorded. The borrower is Law on the farm. It is possible to prove that a deed without the so-called "defeasance clause" is meant to be only a mortgage, where this was the intention of the parties.

In order that mortgage deeds may clearly evidence what they are, Illinois law provides that they may be substantially in this form: "The mortgagor (name) mortgages and warrants to (name), to secure the payment of (insert terms of the debt), the following described real estate (describe . . . etc. . . ) By inclusion of the phrase "mortgages and warrants" instead of "conveys and warrants," the instrument becomes a mortgage deed instead of a warranty deed.

Illinois laws referred to are in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 30, Section 10; and Chapter 95, Section 13.

Record cow

Bluff View Villisca Pride, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Martin Loeber, Palatine, has completed a 365-day production test of 635 pounds of butterfat and 17,924 pounds of milk made in Herd Improvement Registry.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

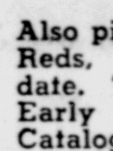

This cow was milked 2 times daily and was 5 years 4 months of age when she began her test period.

Anthrax

The spread of anthrax in farm animals is favored when there are heavy rains followed by dry periods and extreme heat, along with an abundance of flies.

Plenty farm surplus—What are we going to do with it?

by C. A. HUGHES

"The huge corn surplus now piling up will become a problem for our government. With Secretary Brannan proposing to dump huge supplies of potatoes on farms where they were grown," says Farm Adviser Hughes, "our growing supply of corn to maintain prices is becoming an acute problem. We favor a sliding parity as surpluses mount. Congress continues a 90% parity for political reasons. Our farm program should be looked at as an emergency measure only. If farmers will not or refuse to adjust production of surpluses, government certainly must not be required to buy his extra production."

"We have offered the grass-legume program as a means of reducing corn acreages in Cook County and raising our dairy replacements instead of buying them as is the general practice," says Hughes.

WE HAVE AROUND four billion dollars invested already. That is about $100 for each typical American family. The investment gets bigger each day. Wage earners pay their share in tax deductions from their pay. Farmers pay theirs on March 15, or whenever they pay their income tax. We all are interested in getting our money back sometime. If we ever get it back, it will be through reduced taxes. But how can we get it back and provide equitable protection for farmers too?

A look into our warehouses shows that our stocks include corn, cotton, wheat, peanuts, beans, linseed oil, dried eggs, dried skim milk, potatoes, and many other items. What can we do with them?

If we dump them into foreign markets, farmers in other countries will not like it. They will take retaliatory measures against our exports. We will lose friends. We are big, but not so big that we do not need all the friends we can get in this world. CONSUMERS in the foreign counties will not appreciate the gifts either. The housewife who finally buys the stuff often does not know where it came from, much less that it was practically given away by the United States. Then, too, how will the 125 million nonfarm consumers in this country like the idea? Will they be happy to see farm products sold to others at lower prices than they have to pay? You know the answer to those questions.

We also get into trouble trying to dispose of the stuff in our own country. Some can be used for relief, of course, but even that competes with products farmers are selling. And, anyway, who is hungry enough to eat 500 million bushels of corn?

Yes, chicks like the uneven, "naturalized" form of Bite-Size—eat more, grow fast, do well. Provides a balanced ration, reduces feed waste. Contains all necessary vitamins, minerals, proteins and other elements essential for good growth and development. Come in and examine Bite-Size. See why it's so popular.

Airlines not anxious to use O'Hare Field

Chicago aldermen faced an unpleasant fact last week. They learned that after spending $10,675,000 to build O'Hare airport in Park Ridge they have no assurance that any air lines will use the field.

Nine representatives of major air lines talked with aldermen Friday. They were asked if they would use the field. The air lines said that right now they could use it only as a secondary field. When there is bad weather or overcrowded conditions at Midway airport, they'd land at O'Hare.

THE REPRESENTATIVES pointed out that Midway (formerly Municipal) airport is sufficient for them since the Meigs field was built on Northly Isle. The "flying farmers" who once used Midway now land at Meigs.

Even when the first phase of the construction at O'Hare is completed next year, the air lines won't promise to use it. They say to make the field adequate for their needs would require 23 million dollars more.

Under this first phase the field will have four runways and ten parking spots for planes to load and unload passengers. The additional 23 millions would allow two more runways and 14 additional parking spots.

The city cannot see that much money. Not more than $16,000,000 is available from the state and federal governments, and before the city could finance the rest of the money it would need some sort of guarantee that the air lines would use the field.

New ideas for that home

THE CARLTON is a three-bedroom house with the rooms compactly grouped around a central hall. The medium sized bedrooms are well supplied with closet space and wall areas for the placing of furniture.

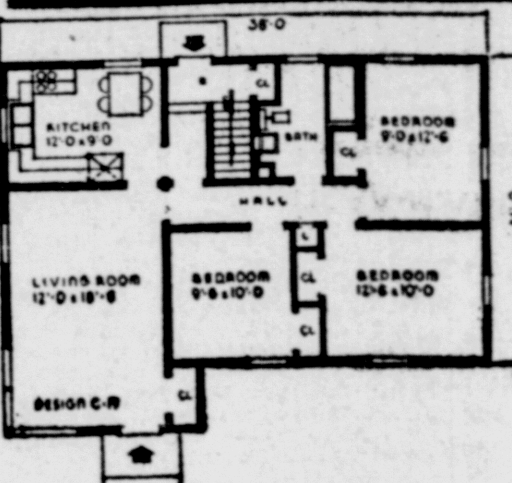

The kitchen has a cheerful dining corner and cabinets arranged to save steps in the preparation of meals. There are two exposures and liberal wall space in the living room. It can easily be used for large dinner groups, as it is located near to the kitchen.

There is a generous amount of closet space in the Carlton. There is a coat closet located at the front entrance and another coat closet situated at the rear entrance. The bedroom hall is equipped with a linen closet.

The Carlton's plans call for frame construction. However, concrete blocks can be substituted. The Carlton's plans also provide for siding, overhanging eaves and a hip roof covered with asphalt shingles.

Dimensions of The Carlton are 38 feet wide and 24 feet deep. There is an area of 989 square feet and 19,415 cubic feet, including a full basement.

For further information about THE CARLTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

HOBBIES

Yours and Mine
BY BETTY AINSLIE

LORRAINE VIRNIG with a bit of fear and trembling applied scissors to a piece of wine wool which will soon be a skirt.

Mrs. Green was busy going from one table to another, quickly catching mistakes before they could be disastrous, and answering the questions of those who rushed up to her with patterns and material.

Everyone easily gets acquainted with the others. And fingers that had never made anything before swiftly and surely cut into bright materials confident that they'll all be good sewers by the end of the term.

So possibly if patterns are all Greek to you, but you've always liked the idea of saving money by doing your own sewing, you might find this class the one for you. Keep beginners sewing in mind for next Fall and start a fine profitable hobby of your own.

Had the chance this past week to look in on the beginners sewing group, which is one of the Adult Evening Classes at the high school.

Here about 25 gals are all busy learning the fine art of sewing.

Gay prints, pale spring colors, and bold wools were spread out on the large tables as the group prepared to cut patterns of their own choosing under the direction of Mrs. Green their teacher.

"I THINK THIS class is important," declared tiny Mrs. Frank Smith busily cutting out a rayon print dress, "because it gives you the encouragement you need to try your hand at sewing. Doing it here is easy because you know you have a teacher to help you over any problems you might have."

This sewing class meets every Monday night from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock and each member of the group is free to make anything she wishes from dresses to skirts and jackets. Each one learns to read patterns and to cut and fit them as well as instruction in all types of sewing.

There was lively chatter as material and patterns were fitted together and the work started.

Mary Freeman is making a full skirted dress in a lovely blue linen. She and her mother attend night classes together as Mrs. Freeman is in the millinery course on the same night.

Dorothy Kreft spread a bright wool material in a new melon shade on one of the tables and began cutting a spring jacket.

Mary Heidorn was busy matching plaids to make a bolero suit, and Julia Runge started sewing on a white cotton blouse.

Each member goes as fast or as slowly as she wishes, and makes as many things as the time of the course allows.

Louise Dreiling is making a sport dress of gray gabardine, and Mrs. J. Underwood a bright afternoon dress of red gabardine.

A tailored blouse in American Beauty shade, which Jean Nielsen is making out of rayon taffeta, is the first thing she has really ever tried to make for herself.
